None Seriously Injured In Week-end Accidents

For the first time in four weeks no one was seriously injured in week-end accidents in this area. Five persons received minor injuries in three accidents.

Harold Jacobsen, 24, of 3727 W. Douglas blvd., Chicago, was injured when the car he was driving struck another car driven by Arliss Clavey, 17, 1829 Prairie st., Glenview, on route 42A one-half mile north of West Lake ave. July 31 at 12:30 p. m.

Jacobsen was taken to St. Francis hospital. He said he didn't see Clavey who was going north on 42 and made a left turn into a driveway. Jacobsen was going south on 42.

A. R. Groh, 68, of 1608 Sherwin ave., Chicago, was driving south on Sanders rd. August 1 at 1:20 p. m. As he approached the intersection at Dundee rd. he stopped and started to cross when he was hit by the car driven by Wylie Ward Jenson, 26, of 4416 Zenith ave., Chicago. Jenson was going east on 68.

Dick Romans of Minneapolis and Groh were taken to St. Francis hospital for first aid treatment.

Speros A. Sarlas, 28, of Wauconda and Eugene Gutnetch, 40, of Garden dr., Bensenville, sustained minor injuries Sunday at 3:50 a. m. in an accident involving three cars at routes 83 and 12.

Two cars driven by Sarlas and John Morelli, 38, of route 2, Bensenville, collided at the intersection, and the Sarlas car hit the stop light and was completely demolished. A hub cap flew off the car and hit a third car which had stopped for the light at the intersection. The third car was driven by Robert H. Sophie, 28, of Mount Prospect Country club.

Nine other week-end accidents resulted in property damage only.

Catholic Rectory Nears Completion

The new Catholic parish in Arlington Heights has already begun services, and a home located on the church property has been remodeled for use of the parish priest.

A few weeks ago, these pages announced that Rev. Harold O'Hara had been appointed by His Eminence, Cardinal Stritch to start a second Catholic parish in Arlington Heights. The name of the new parish is Our Lady of the Wayside.

PROPERTY at Park and Mitchell was purchased, and through the cooperation of the school board, arrangements were made to celebrate Sunday masses in the South school auditorium, starting July 27.

Very Rev. Msgr. Eugene Mulcahey of Maryville Academy, Des Plaines, has honored the new parish by offering one of the masses each Sunday. Sunday masses are scheduled at 8, 9:30 and 11 a. m. at present. There will be a fourth mass after September 1, the time of which will be announced later.

In order to provide a temporary rectory for Father O'Hara, it was decided to utilize a small house already on the property, heretofore lived in by renters.

ALTHOUGH this building was in disrepair and without plumbing facilities, a group of parishioners went to work with hammers, saws and paint brushes. All week long men and women —sometimes whole families— came by to offer help in their spare time.

As a result, what was little more than a lean-to has been transformed into a suitable temporary residence for Father O'Hara.

The front room has been rearranged into a very small but beautiful chapel, where daily mass was celebrated for the first time August 4, at 7:30 a. m.

Railroad Asks For More Time To Install Gates

A letter from Chicago and North Western railroad, read at the Arlington Heights village board meeting Monday night, asked for an extension of time on the deadline set for the installation of automatic gates at the Euclid ave. and Wilke rd. railroad crossings. A hearing on the matter will be held by the Illinois Commerce Commission September 9.

The gates were scheduled to be installed by August 1 of this year. The board asked Village Attorney Hugo J. Thal to investigate the delay.

ONE BID for the installation of a new furnace in the Arlington Heights municipal building was received and opened. The bidder, Reliable Heating Co. of Park Ridge, offered to do the job for $2,500.50. The board took the matter under advisement.

Edward M. Levin, realtor, is seeking a building permit to remodel the interior of the Scarsdale real estate office, S. State rd., into five offices. This office is located on residential property, which was rezoned from business to residential after the building was located there.

THE BOARD is of the opinion the office is occupying the site on a non-conforming zoning basis, and if this is the case, no improvement can be made to the building. A further study of the matter will be made.

Mayor Albert W. Goedke appointed Nelson F. Hauff as a special police officer. He replaces Henry B. Hutten, who served with the force last year.

Village Invites Comments On Mosquito Spraying

The second village wide spraying for mosquitoes took place in Arlington Heights Friday and Saturday nights.

These foggings have been an experimental project with the village and whether or not they were successful will determine whether the village will make arrangements for a complete series of foggings next year.

A survey after the first spraying showed excellent results in all sections of Arlington Heights. The village is interested in knowing how the second "shot" took care of the mosquitoes. Residents are asked to drop a postcard or to call the village hall if they think it has been a worthwhile project. Address cards to Forrest F. Davis, village clerk, Arlington Heights, Ill.

Palatine Youths Ransack Home, Apprehend One

A 16-year-old Palatine youth was apprehended for ransacking and burglarizing the William T. Weichbrod home on Rohlwing rd., between Kirchhoff rd. and route 14, Arlington Heights, Tuesday morning.

A neighbor, John Philippe, saw two youths leaving the Weichbrod home with a sewing machine. Recognizing one of the boys, he told him to return the machine, but the boys escaped in their car and Philippe was unable to catch them.

Mrs. Weichbrod, employed by John F. Garlisch and Sons, said she left her home at 10 a. m. Tuesday. She returned a little after 11 a. m. when notified of the burglary and found the home completely ransacked.

"The whole house was turned upside down," she said. Upholstered chairs were split, all the linens were dumped out, the attic was completely upset and furniture and contents of drawers were heaped in the center of each room.

Mrs. Weichbrod estimated damage at $200 and said the sewing machine that was taken but later returned was valued at $200.

The second youth has not yet been identified. The boy apprehended is at the Juvenile Home.

July Building Permits Total $423,366

Building permits issued in Arlington Heights during July totaled $423,366.

Permits for 26 single family dwellings were issued, totaling $366,750. Others included 26 private garages, $24,536; 9 alterations and repairs to private homes, $10,080; two alterations and repairs to non-residential buildings, $22,000.

FOUNDER WOULD HAVE BEEN 100 THIS WEEK

To half of Paddock Publications' 14,000 subscribers the name of H. C. Paddock means nothing, but to those others who remember him as founder of the present newspaper firm from 1899 on, this Tuesday, August 5, would have been the elder Mr. Paddock's hundredth birthday. He died in 1935.

H. C. Paddock came to Arlington Heights in 1899 after operating many other weeklies in this area and observing his entire plant burn down in Libertyville. From the old school, "H. C." never gave up either in the face of disaster or depression, nor hesitated to meet head-on in his news columns all politicians, businessmen, or personalities who opposed him or his ideas.

OPEN HEARINGS ON SHOPPING CENTER

Citizens Overflow Village Hall; Arguments Continued Thursday

The public hearing Tuesday night regarding the rezoning of a tract of land on S. State rd., Arlington Heights, from residential classification to business, to permit a shopping center to be erected on the site, was adjourned at midnight until 7:30 p.m. Thursday, August 7.

Citizens, who packed the village hall and overflowed onto the sidewalk surrounding the building, observing the hearing through open windows, heard witnesses for the proponents give testimony in behalf of the center. Attorney James W. Cotter, representing John Lindstrom, Inc., who plans to build the center, outlined the testimony to be presented at the opening of the meeting.

IN THIS OUTLINE he stated a public opinion poll had been taken in Arlington Heights. Of the 726 persons asked whether or not they were in favor of a shopping center located on the proposed site, 631 signed a petition to the effect that they were, while only 95 refused to sign the petition. Further testimony regarding this poll will be presented in the final portion of the proponents' arguments Thursday night.

E. L. Middlebusher, architect, who resides in Chicago and has designed 10 such shopping centers, outlined the content of the proposed center. The slightly more than 10 acre site will have five buildings, which will occupy a quarter of the property, the balance to be used as a parking area for approximately 900 autos, and ingress and egress roads to the center. He also stated the property would be screened from existing residential areas by planting fast growing trees and shrubs along the edges.

Sketches of the center were presented to the zoning board in order that they might get a better picture of the project. Middlebusher pointed out that the center would have one point of ingress and egress, fronting on State rd.

George Hoban, 645 S. Burton, Arlington Heights, questioned Middlebusher as to the advisability of having only one point of ingress and egress to accommodate the 900 autos it was said could be parked in the area.

HAROLD E. GRIER, 712 Lynden, Arlington Heights, asked whether it would not be a fire hazard to have only one point of exit and entrance to such a large area. Hoban also asked if such a condition would create a safety hazard by the increased volume of traffic entering onto State rd. at that point.

Other testimony presented by Carl L .Gardner, Chicago city regional planner and a member of the Chicago plan commission, answered these queries. Using the latest traffic volume map prepared by the state of Illinois in 1950 as a guide, he told the board that State rd. is lightly traveled considering the type of road it is, and could handle, without creating a hazard, the additional traffic which would be created by the shopping center.

He pointed out, however, that State rd. would have to be properly marked to provide for cross traffic entering and leaving the area. Just what method used could be worked out with traffic engineers.

Regarding fire protection, Gardner recommended that a temporary barrier along one of the streets adjacent to the property could be erected to allow for a second entrance to the center in event of an emergency.

GARDNER, AWARE that Stanton and Rockwell, village planners, have just made a survey of Arlington Heights to recommend a long range plan for the village to adopt, said the village is losing its trade to other towns, which have provided adequate parking areas, and modernized their business districts.

"Arlington Heights must develop from within," said Gardner, "or a modern shopping center will be built on its outskirts and definitely injure the established business district.

"Stanton and Rockwell's suggestion for the business district improvement is excellent, but it can't be done overnight. In fact it would probably take 10 to 20 years before such a wide scale change could be made in the present loop. In the meantime the village continues to grow. If the business area does not grow with it, residents will seek better shopping facilities elsewhere.

"A shopping center, such as the one planned, would keep the local trade at home. No doubt the immediate effect of its opening would create a hardship on the old district, but as it makes its improvements the two districts would eventually merge, making it a unified shopping area. The growth of the village certainly justifies such a development.

"ARLINGTON Heights is fortunate in having a tract of land located so near the present district, on which a shopping center could be erected and still not isolate the present business area."

Warren Byers, Evanston, an electrical engineer, informed the board the lighting facilities planned for the center would be in keeping with the height of tree and shrub screening. They would be constructed to diffuse light from going into the sky or spreading out to light up adjoining residential areas.

He further stated the proposed buildings would have canopied walks, thus cutting out the possibility of lighted store windows reflecting in the sky.

The last witness to appear in behalf of the proponents was Harold H. Stringer, Chicago, who gave sales figures pertaining to the volume of business done in Arlington Heights during 1950 and 1951 compared to other towns in the immediate area.

SALES IN Arlington Heights amounted to $11,435,000 in 1950, and increased to $11,825,000 in 1951, while Mount Prospect sales were $3,416,000 in 1950 and increased to $4,720,000 in 1951. Des Plaines showed an increase in sales of $2,296,000 during that period, and Palatine an increase of $1,160,000.

Stringer was of the opinion that the poor facilities in the present shopping area was the main reason Arlington was losing trade that should normally come its way.

Further discussion of this point will take place Thursday night, when opponents will be given an opportunity to question Stringer.

Famous Black Horse Troop to Highlight 4-H Fair Horse Show August 15-17

For the first time in the history of the annual North Cook 4-H Fair a horse show will be presented August 17, climaxing the three day event, which begins August 15, at the Arlington Park Jockey club.

Highlighting the show will be the Chicago Northwest Shrine Club Troop, often called the "Black Horse Troop," in full dress, which will present a musical drill. The troop, in charge of Major G. T. Sunde, veteran of Victor McLaglen's light horse troop of the 1930's, got its start in August 1951. It has now grown to a polished unit of 21 expert horsemen, including Major Sunde.

DURING THE week they are business and professional men, but on Sunday mornings they congregate at Greentree stables, 4700 Cumberland rd., don uniforms resembling those worn by the Royal Canadian Mounties, and go through their paces. All members are affiliated with the Northwest Shrine Masonic order.

The troop is a non-profit organization where each member owns and maintains his personal mount and equipment—the use of which he donates, with his time, to worthy community, civic and charitable events.

The troop was a guest and featured participant in the Aurora Day Pageant and the Waukegan parade, both held in 1951. This year it has led Chicagoland's great pre-Easter parade, the Cerebral Palsy Day Parade, the Park Ridge Decoration Day parade and the Joliet pageant and parade. There are many requests for the troop's appearance at horse shows this autumn as well as more proposed pageants.

The black horse troop is being brought to the fair through the courtesy of Rainbow Water Softener, 113 E. Davis st., Arlington Heights.

The horse show, open to all horsemen 16 years of age or over, will consist of five divisions and seven classes. Divisions include jumping, five gaited, three gaited, equitation and western.

Judges for the show, beginning at 1 p.m., will be Major Sunde and Dr. Thomas A. Carter, the latter also a famous name in horse circles. Each class will have a trophy and eight ribbons.

ENTRY FEE for each class is $2. Entry blanks and further information are available from North Cook County 4-H Fair Association, 201 N. Dunton st., Arlington Heights.

Each day of the fair will be packed with entertainment and exhibits for patrons to view. Friday's program will start at 9 a.m. with the judging of livestock. For anyone who has never seen this done, it is quite an experience. The 4-H boys and girls spend many hours of time in preparing their animal for the show ring. Many of them also do a splendid job showing their animals in the ring.

The Friday evening program will feature the Arlington Heights community band and WLS artists. The Saturday afternoon program will be demonstrations by 4-H members. Saturday evening will be home talent furnished by 4-H members and the 4-H federation.

SUNDAY afternoon, of course, will be the horse show and the northwest mounted black horse parade. Sunday evening awards will be distributed and the 4-H king and queen will be crowned. There will be a livestock parade and a home economics club review August 15 and 16.

There is no admission or parking charge. The public is invited to attend. The 4-H fair is sponsored by the Cook County farm bureau and the Arlington Heights chamber of commerce.

Pick Little Mister and Miss Arlington at Annual Water Show

Out of a field of 27 boys and girls, between 1 and 4 years old, 10 were picked in a preliminary judging Saturday morning. Runners up for the title were: Girls —Laura Ann Damler, Jennifer Behrens, Vicki Smith and Barbara Hofer. Boys—Greg Pearson, John Kehe, Ricky Price and Kelly Konchar.

Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Johnson, 645 S. Dunton. She hails originally from Minneapolis, Minn., where both sets of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Warre and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson, still reside.

Kirk is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth C. Koelling, N. State rd. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Koelling of the same address, and Mr. and Mrs. J. V. DeRogatis of Miami, Fla.

Judges for the contest were Lester McAuliffe, Russ Attis and Vera Folkman.

Legion and Auxiliary Hold Installation

The annual installation of officers of Merle Guild Post 208, American Legion, and the Ladies Auxiliary unit of Arlington Heights will be held Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Legion home on Douglas st.

The program will include the annual reports of outgoing Commander Robert B. Bishop and the retiring auxiliary President Dorothy Petersen. Charles C. Olin, commander of the Ninth District council, will be the installing officer for the Legion, and past District Director Mae Wisersky will install the auxiliary officers. They will be assisted by the installing Sergeants-at-Arms, Joe Wisersky and Mae Jorgensen.

The new Legion Commander, Dwight D. Guilfoil Jr., will outline the Legion program for the coming year. It is believed that Guilfoil is one of the first paraplegic war veterans to assume the leadership of a Legion post in this state.

Evelyn Berry will be installed as the new president of the auxiliary unit. She is scheduled to announce her committee appointments at that time. Many prominent Legion officials have indicated they will attend this ceremony.

Featured in the evening's program will be a social hour starting at 7:30 p.m. Dancing and refreshments will follow the installation. Music will be provided by a four piece orchestra. The public, and especially the veterans, of Arlington Heights and vicinity are invited to attend. No admission charge.

Rapid Growth of Village Compels Business District to Expand Out of 'Loop' Area

Available facilities for new businesses to locate in the present "loop" in Arlington Heights are at a premium. As a result business blocks and new stores are mushrooming on the outskirts of the loop area.

Parking facilities are another reason they are locating out of the present business district, where streets are narrow and congested and few shopper parking areas are available.

The biggest development along this line is the block of seven stores to be erected on Northwest hwy., west of Pine ave., by Art Jacobs, realtor. The first of these stores has been built and is occupied by Jacobs real estate office.

"WE PLAN TO build the rest as soon as the tenants in the house on the rear of the property find a place to live," said Jacobs. "It will be necessary to move this house before the other stores can be erected."

Jacobs estimates that the work will be started within the next 60 or 90 days. The stores will vary in size from 18 to 19 foot frontage and 29 to 50 feet deep. A shopper parking lot will be provided at the rear of the building, as well as diagonal parking facilities along the front of the stores, off the highway.

The former frozen locker plant on S. State rd., has been taken over and remodeled by Arlington Milk, Inc. They operate a home delivery service from this point, as well as a dairy store.

HALF OF THE front portion of the building has been leased to a doctor, who will open a general practice here within the next month or two. His name is Dr. Robert C. Kloempken, who resides in Maywood and has been associated with a veteran's hospital at Hines, Ill.

Robert Peterson and Richard Michalski, who own Arlington Milk, announced that a grand opening of their new store will be held Friday and Saturday, and the general public is invited to attend.

A new two store building is being erected next door to Arlington Milk by Raymond Wilke. Completion of the stores is expected by the middle of September. At present it is believed a furniture store and a paint store will occupy the new building.

NO DEFINITE answer regarding the proposed shopping center to be built by John Lindstrom, Inc. on S. State rd., south of South st., has been given by the zoning board of appeals, which held another hearing on the rezoning of the property Tuesday night.

If the development were permitted it would provide Arlington Heights with a modern shopping court, containing five main buildings, each housing several shops. It would also provide a parking area for nearly 800 autos.

'Mother' Presents Kittens as Offering

Mrs. Theodore Bostrand, secretary of Palatine Methodist church, opened the office door Monday morning in time to see a big white cat with a black tail scamper out of the room.

As she looked around she saw a tiny kitten nestled in the offering basket placed on the desk. She realized it must have been the mother cat she saw scooting out.

Mrs. Bostrand called around the neighborhood to see if anyone owned such a cat. All she could find out was that a cat answering that description had kittens on a neighbor's front porch about eight weeks ago. They had taken the kittens to the Orphans of the Storm, but the mother had apparently hidden one away.

Tuesday morning Mrs. Bostrand found a second kitten in the offering basket, but no sign of the mother. It is believed the mother cat found she could no longer care for the kittens, so brought them to someone who could.

Mrs. Bostrand said if she could not find homes for the kittens she would have them taken to the Orphans of the Storm.

Temporary Ban on Downspout Connections To Become Permanent

Following a statement made by the village engineer at the Arlington Heights village board meeting Monday night, the trustees agreed that the connecting of downspouts to sewers would be permanently banned in the village.

This practice had been temporarily stopped due to overloading the already taxed sewer facilities. It was believed when sewer improvements were made that the downspouts could again be connected. However, the village engineer told the board he did not think this was a good practice. Heavy rains bring a flood of storm water into the sewers through natural flow, without bringing in roof water at the same time.

"In congested residential areas," he said, "the sewers could not take all this water at one time, and would probably result in the flooding of basements. If roof water is allowed to enter the sewer through natural seepage it would come in over a longer period of time, and would not overburden the sewers during a bad rainstorm."

Building Commissioner Fred Hammer has been instructed by the board not to allow any home under construction to provide for a downspout connection. This will prevent anyone tempted to connect the downspout after the house is completed from doing so.

The work will consist of widening the present 18 foot pavement to 24 feet and the entire width will be resurfaced with asphaltic concrete. This includes the construction of a new ramp at the grade separation at Junction 14 and 31.

A contract for the resurfacing of Rt. 21 between Half Day and Lake-Cook County Line, was also awarded this week.

Both of these jobs will be started within a few days and an early completion is expected.

NEW NEIGHBORS .... IN THE CITY OF GOOD NEIGHBORS

Mrs. Robert Scheunemann
530 S. Pine ave.

Mrs. Robert Scheunemann and her son, Kenneth, moved into their new ranch home at 530 S. Pine ave. April 3. They were former residents of Palatine.

Mrs. Scheunemann says that she likes it here very much.

Kenneth Scheunemann is employed by Leonard W. Besinger and Associates, Inc., Arlington Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Grier
712 E. Lynden lane

The Harold E. Grier family moved into their new home May 1. They came to Chicago from Trona, Calif., for business reasons and then found the home they wanted in Arlington Hts.

Mrs. Grier, a native of Minnesota, said she likes it here very much.

Mr. Grier is a civil engineer for the Matisa Co. in Chicago, a railroad equipment company.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Grier were graduated from the University of Minnesota, where Mrs. Grier majored in speech correction. A member of the California chapter of American Association of University Women, Mrs. Grier likes to knit, sew and read.

Mrs. Grier's father, Clifford Foote, lives with the family, and his hobby is gardening.

Charles, who is just 2½ years old, completes the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Barnett
713 S. Evergreen ave.

The Mitchell Barnetts looked all over for a home and finally decided on one in Arlington Heights, which they consider one of the most convenient suburbs and yet one far enough away from the city to "get away from it all." They moved here from Chicago April 18.

Their daughter, Bonnie Ann is 2½ years old. Bonnie loves it out here, according to her mother. She's out all day.

Mr. Barnett, who is a commercial artist, likes to build things out of wood in his spare time. Sewing is Mrs. Barnett's hobby.

The whole family likes Arlington Heights very much.

CIRCLING THE TOWN
BY PHYLLIS KNIGHT

With the start of school just three weeks away—hard to believe, isn't it?—one really serious problem remains for many of the teachers. That, of course, is the question of where they will live during the school year or more permanently if they're fortunate in the kind of housing they obtain.

Rooms for single teachers—or for two women who might wish to share a room—small apartments for couples without children and larger ones for married men with families are also urgently needed. Some of the families will also consider buying a smaller house.

Teachers whose living conditions are good, who do not need to commute long distances, or who don't live in a totally inadequate home, make better teachers. They are happier at home and happier in their work.

A call from any one who has a suggestion of where to find an apartment or house will be mighty welcome to the people at South school office. The number is CLearbrook 3-6100.

So Long

Combining their summer social activities with a farewell party, the members of the Village Theatre will gather Sunday for a picnic at the J. D. Crittenden home and at the same time will honor two original members, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Anderson, who are leaving Arlington Heights.

The group will get together for a bring-your-own dinner at 12:30, after which there will be games and informal entertainment for all the family.

The Andersons have been major contributors to the success of each of the Village Theatre's plays. Mr. Anderson was original director of the organization and staged "Night Must Fall," "Blithe Spirit," and " Call It A Day." He also played the role of Danny in the first play, of Kolenkhov in "You Can't Take It With You," and Spike MacManus in "State of the Union."

Mrs. Anderson has done much technical work as well as acting for the group. She was technician and designer for "Call It A Day," and stage manager in "You Can't Take It With You." She also played the part of the countess in the latter, the Negro maid in "Dear Ruth," and Kay Thorndike in "State of the Union." This past year she headed the talent bank committee, which provides short plays and skits as entertainment for other local clubs.

Ice Cream And

As a money-making method to raise funds for new choir equipment, but also to give a lot of people a lot of good refreshment, the members of the adult choir of St. Peter Lutheran church have planned an ice cream social for this Sunday afternoon starting at 4:30. It will be held on the school grounds, and in case of rain will be moved into the basement.

In addition to loads of "just ice cream" there'll be cake, sodas, sundaes and hot coffee.

It is just one month since the opening of the new library building and for the information of our public we are happy to report that over four thousand books were checked out during that period. Two hundred and fifty-nine applications were made out by new subscribers, and hundreds of persons have enjoyed the reading rooms, both adult and juvenile.

It has been a time of becoming acquainted with newcomers in our community, and a continuance of past pleasant relations with our faithful patrons of long standing. Plan now to visit your library within the near future and avail yourselves of the many opportunities to read for relaxation, more enjoyment of your hobby, new skills or keeping in touch with late developments in the world with the reading of new magazines.

WOULD YOU LIKE to know more about the city of Chicago, so much in the minds of people all over the country with the recent conventions still fresh with newspaper accounts of political activities? A. J. Liebling, in his new book, "Chicago —the Second City," gives his impression—personal, acid, biting, and informed—of the American city that is always second.

With the big leagues either in or out of the running for the pennant on the home stretch, the book "Baseball Is Their Business," by Harold Rosenthal, baseball columnist for the New York Herald Tribune, will be of special interest. Here is a kind of "Inside Organized Baseball" for everyone who has guessed that there's a lot more to the sport than meets the fan's eye. No one who has a keen interest in the nation's favorite pastime will come away from this book without having learned something to his advantage.

"What is Progressive Education?" A book for parents and others by Carleton Washburne. Parents and other citizens are disturbed about what is happening to their children in schools. The children are being taught in ways that differ from tradition. This book attempts to tell parents and other citizens what is being done or attempted in schools that are in step with scientific progress, with American democratic ideals, and with the problems of our turbulent times.

WHAT BOY ISN'T interested in making boats, airplanes and kites? Details for the construction of favorite handicraft projects for long summer days are given in a new book by Armand J. LaBerge. Every boat, airplane and kite included herein has stood the test of actual construction and operation, and has proved to have a strong appeal for boys of junior high school ages.

"Young Sioux Warrior," by Francis Lynde Kroll will appeal to the boy just interested in reading for pastime. How Great Bear trained his little grandson and how together they traced a horse thief who stole their horses; how the courage, determination, and ability of Little Bear saved the entire tribe, make absorbing, exciting reading, and when at length Little Bear is finally called "warrior," the reader has an authentic historically accurate picture of the real life of a boy in an Indian tribe.

Make Effort To Form New Political Group

Efforts were begun this week to get a new political group, called the American First party, on the ballot in Illinois in time for the November general election. The party's candidate for president is Douglas MacArthur and Harry F. Byrd is listed for vice-president.

Signatures of at least 25,000 legal voters in the state will have to be acquired on petitions for the party by the deadline date of August 18. Fifteen thousand or more of these will have to come from Chicago while the others must be spread among 50 or more counties.

Petitions may be signed or secured for procurement of signatures at the MacArthur for President committee headquarters, 166 W. Jackson blvd., Chicago. The new party has reportedly been formed from the ranks of the old "Draft MacArthur for President" club.

Lutheran Hour Octet To Sing August 15 At Faith Church

The Lutheran Hour Octet will present a concert of sacred music at Faith English Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, August 15, at 8 p. m.

The octet is made up of men studying for the Lutheran ministry at the world's largest Protestant seminary, Concordia in St. Louis, Mo. Their director, John Heidinger, is also a student.

Although a young organization in point of time the group is well experienced as they have sung numerous concerts, traveling 10,000 miles on concert tours during the past year. At present they are on a 10 week tour of churches in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa.

In their concerts the octet presents a musical message that speaks to the heart of each listener. The musical selections are heavy enough to make the program of musical worth and yet light enough that they also can easily be enjoyed by children.

The voices of the group are gathered from all over the country. Included in the octet is Leonard Fiene of Elmhurst.

The Lutheran Hour Octet has been highly lauded and well received wherever it has gone to perform. Faith church extends an invitation to the general public to attend the concert.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

That God's creation is spiritual and complete is proved when we turn from the false evidence of the physical senses to the true facts of divine Science. This will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 10. The title of the Lesson-Sermon will be SPIRIT.

The Golden Text is from I John (4: 6, 13) "We are of God: . . . Hereby know that we dwell in him and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit."

Bible selections (King James Version) in the Lesson-Sermon include:

"For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God . . . The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God" (Romans 8: 14, 16).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Spirit being God, there is but one Spirit, for there can be but one infinite and therefore one God . . . Whatever materializes worship hinders man's spiritual growth and keeps him from demonstrating his power over error . . . We worship spiritually, only as we cease to worship materially. Spiritual devoutness is the soul of Christianity" (pp. 334, 4, 140).

More Diesels for North Western Freights

Twenty-two diesel electric locomotives for freight service have been delivered to the Chicago and North Western Railway System during recent weeks, it was announced by R. L. Williams, president.

The diesels are part of the railway's program to add 90 units of diesel motive power during the current year. Fifty-eight additional locomotives are still on order with deliveries scheduled to be completed by the end of November.

The recent deliveries consist of 23 1500-horsepower road switching locomotives, four 1500-horsepower freight locomotives, and five 1200-horsepower road switching locomotives.

As of January 1, the North Western had a total of 404 diesel locomotive units in passenger, freight, and switching service and was handling 81.1 per cent of its freight gross ton-mileage with diesel power.

The Capitol of Front

Los Angeles, California . . . The guy who first said "All that glitters is not gold" wasn't talking about Los Angeles, but he should have been. This town is the headquarters of sham, phonies, tinsel and gaudy gimcrackery, and the owner of the biggest inferiority complex in the United States. There are more Cadillac convertibles — unpaid for, more fancy homes with swimming pools — mortgaged to the hilt, more phony foreign accents — from Brooklyn, more plush offices — with Dunn and Bradstreet ratings of zero than anywhere else in the world.

I once knew a guy on the fringe of the "pickcha" business who drove a $5,000 convertible and lived in a $6,000 apartment on "The Strip," (a certain flashy section of Sunset Boulevard) who didn't have a dime. His attitude among intimates was simply that living was like gambling. If you bet $5 and doubled your money, you had $10. If you bet $5,000 and doubled your money, you had $10,000. In other words you might as well be broke in a $6,000 apartment as in a $10 a week room. It seems to me this philosophy has certain holes but this guy seemed to live, more easily able to stall his $6,000 landlord than he would have been able to stall his $10 a week landlord. An extreme attitude but a good example of a prevailing trend of thought in this area. This chap's part in the chase after the almighty dollar was confined to muttering "what's in it for me" when he succeeded in elbowing his way into some simmering "deal." And he has numerous counterparts in all phases of this city's commerce.

Another interesting aspect of LA is its architecture. Angelenos pride themselves on their modernity and this city is making further great strides in this direction with tremendous edifices built with a little steel and a lot of glass. In addition, they almost cornered the market on schools that look like supermarkets. This leads to some confusion on the part of the pupils who would probably learn more in a supermarket anyway, what with having to cope with the California system of alleged "progressive" education.

Gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000.

Now you can get this same 1-2-3 "50,000 Miles—No Wear" Service, at your Conoco Mileage Merchant's today!

Marines Open Flight Training for Reserves

The marine corps has opened up flight training for its reserve officers including college graduates who have entered its officer candidate class program.

These college graduates, according to Lieutenant Paul F. Stephenson, officer procurement officer, room 752, 225 S Clark st., Chicago, must complete successfully at least 14 of their 20 weeks special basic course at Quantico, Va., before applying, because all marine aviators must know tactics of ground warfare for their coordinated air-ground teamwork in attack.

Lieutenant Stephenson said that applicants for the next officer Candidate class beginning Sept. 30 were now being accepted. College graduates accepted for flight training under the Marine Corps reserve officer program would be sent to the U. S. naval air station, Pensacola, Fla, for pilot training.

The flight training is open also to qualified marine corps reserve officers of organized and inactive units.

New Heat System Blankets Walls and Windows with Heat

Perimeter heating, newest development in farm air systems, has been specifically designed to overcome the number one comfort upsetting problem in house heating—the cold floor. It is called "perimeter heating" because the warm air from the furnace is introduced into the rooms from diffusers located at the base of the outside walls under the windows—at the perimeter of the house.

Reason for locating warm air diffusers at the base of outside walls is because these areas account for from 65 to 80 per cent of the heat which is lost from a house.

All houses lose heat when the outside temperatures fall below the comfort point. That is why it is necessary to have a heating system in the house.

But it has been found that various areas of the house lose more of the heat than others. Percentagewise, the location responsible for heat loss are about as follows: ceiling, 13.2 per cent; floor, 7.8 per cent; outside walls, 30 per cent; doors, 16.4 per cent; and windows, 32.6 per cent. When home owners compute the percentage of heat loss for which the ouside walls, doors, and windows are responsible, you will find that these areas account for 79 per cent of the total heat lost.

Heating scientists have found that to make a house really comfortable the heating system should "replace heat that is lost, as fast as it is lost, at the point where it is lost."

Estates Unclaimed for 7 Years Turned Over To County General Fund

Couty Treasurer John B. Brenza has been holding a lot of money for missing persons and unknown heirs. Wednesday, Probate Court Judge William F. Waugh, directed him to take the money held for more than 7 years, and turn it over to the county's general funds.

Waugh says that this move may make it more difficult for persons to prove rightful ownership to these funds. In order to get the money, persons will have to get a resolution from the county board to draw the money from the treasury.

Waugh's order applies only to money that has been held for 7 years or more.

First assistant state's attorney, Gordon Nash, said that Brenza holds money from 1,323 estates. He claims that this money, held for more than 7 years, totals $537,491.77.

Youth Enjoy Beach Party As Vacation Ends

As the last month of summer vacation began and working college students hastened to make a few more dollars before school opens, a group of former '51 classmates at Arlington Heights high school and their friends took time out for fun at a beach party Saturday night at the Illinois Beach State Park, north of Waukegan.

The party, given by Ronald Baumann of Arlington Heights was delayed by a heavy blanket of fog for more than an hour, but the skies cleared to provide a picturesque setting for the remainder of the evening.

Miss Elaine Skadberg, Jim Blackburn and Mel Weidner of Arlington Heights, Miss Joan Lundstrom of Mount Prospect, Miss Betsy Jarrett, Jim Walker and Tom Rowader of Prospect Heights were among those who challenged the cool temperature of the lake for a swim.

Favorites for Flavor

By LOIS SEILER

A dessert which is perfect to serve at a luncheon and light enough to accompany even a Thanksgiving dinner is the recipe featured today.

Mrs. Raymond A. Lohr of Arlington Heights considers Lemon Ice Box Cake one of her nicest recipes. Fluffy and light, simple to make, this dessert is a real taste treat!

A unique refrigerator dessert, Lemon Ice Box Cake is shaped like an igloo. It is made in a large bowl lined with pieces of angel food cake or sponge cake. A layer of lemon filling is poured in, then a layer of cake, more filling and more cake.

Placed in the refrigerator overnight, the bowl is inverted before serving, and the dessert removed. It is frosted with whipped cream and garnised with cherries and nutmeats, to make a very attractive and unusual ice box cake.

The cake may be decorated and served as the skirt to a colonial doll, using a china figurine as the head and body. Or the dessert can be made into individual servings, using tea cups or custard cups.

The Lohrs live at 305 S. Vail in Arlington Heights. They have two children, Karen, 10, and Ray Jr., 5. Mrs. Lohr is active as a girl scout leader. Her delightful recipe is one you'll surely want to add to your collection.

Lemon Ice Box Cake

Filling:
3 envelopes (3 tablespoons) gelatin
½ cup cold water
Juice of 2 lemons
Rind of 1 lemon
8 egg yolks
1 cup water
1 cup sugar

Soak the gelatin in ½ cup water. Boil in the top of a double boiler everything but the dissolved gelatin. When thickened, remove from fire and add gelatin. Stir until dissolved. Set aside to cool.

When almost set, fold in the beaten whites of 8 eggs.

While the filling is cooling, line a large bowl with thin slices of sponge cake or angel food cake. Fit pieces in bowl until completely lined.

Pour in a layer of filling, then a layer of cake, the remainder of filling, and finish with a layer of cake on top.

Place in the refrigerator overnight.

When ready to serve, invert the bowl, remove the dessert and frost with whipped cream. Garnish with cherries and nutmeats.

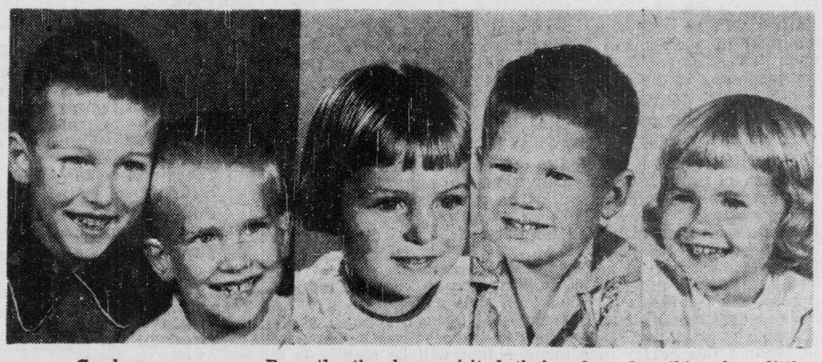
Presenting the Younger Generation



Farmers or Cowboys

It may be farmers or cowboys or a rousing mixture of both that inhabit the L. J. Mueller home at 110 S. Vail, Arlington Heights.

Representing the younger generation of the family are Tommy and Johnny, first in the group of children pictured above, and both wearing broad boyish grins.

Tommy is 7 years old, has light brown hair, blue eyes and will be a second grader in the South school next fall. Johnny is a blond and blue-eyed 4 year old packed with zip. "Television is the only thing that brings the boys inside," stated Mrs. Mueller, "otherwise they are outside playing cowboys most of the time." Recently the boys visited their aunt and uncle on a farm in Iowa. Since that most interesting experience, feeding the animals, fishing and riding the tractor, playing farmers has given the buckaroo sport real competition.

Sweet and Domestic

These words might well describe the 5½ year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Roeske of 606 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights. She is blonde and blue-eyed Ellen, pictured next.

"At present Ellen is most fascinated with sewing little sampler cards and coloring when she is indoors," replied Mrs. Roeske when describing her little girl. She likes to wipe dishes and dust furniture, but especially enjoys playing with her little sister, Evelyn. Evelyn is 13 months old and a good little walker.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bushroe of Plainwell, Mich., are the maternal grandparents.

Wee Birds

The wee birds of the Thomas Bird family of 441 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, are Thomas and his little sister, Kathleen.

Thomas was 4½ years old when this picture was taken. He has rdedish blond hair and hazel eyes. Blonde and blue-eyed Kathleen was 2½ years old. We were unable to contact the parents for further information.

Contact Sprays Best Control For Tree Aphids

Most home owners go all out to rid their gardens of aphids, but often neglect control practices when the plant lice are in trees—where they may do great damage. Actually, aphids spell trouble two ways. They are bad for the trees—deplete them by sucking plant juices—and bad for pedestrians and motorists. Park your car under an infested tree and it is likely to be covered in short order by honey-dew which the insects give off. Saunter by and your neat summer duds may be splattered.

During mid-summer aphids are likely to become particularly troublesome, says P. C. Heintzman, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. Artificial controls may then be needed. These are chemical sprays that kill the pest on contact. Usual poison sprays are ineffective. Reason is that the aphid plunges her beak into leaves, but doesn't chew them. Therefore, she does not consume any stomach poison that might be on the surface of the foliage.

Good results may be had by using nicotine or any other apporved insecticide that kills by contact. To be fully effective, repeated spraying may be needed, since new infestations may soon replace those destroyed. Aphids are unusually prolific, and they travel. Females can reproduce for several generations without any mates.

Even the ant conspires against man to protect the aphid. It considers honeydew a food staple and cares for large numbers of aphids as solicitously as does the dairyman his herd.

Shallow Built-In Drawers For Closets

For easier housekeeping, a battery of shallow built-in drawers may be introduced into any entrance-wide closet. The drawers classify the linens and keep them neatly pressed. Some are assigned to pillow cases and other to sheets, guest towels, face cloths and so on.

If the closet is near the dining room, the drawers can be used similarly for table and kitchen linens.

Drawer dimensions depend on the size of the closet, which should be only as wide as the door for best use of space. Be sure to leave clearance for the drawers when the closet door is wide open.

DRAWERS ARE held in place and operate on two side walls made of lumber. No backing is required at the far wall. Framework of the two sides are 1x4-inch uprights to which are screwed horizontal drawer slides. Filler blocks of hardboard are fastened to the back side of the slides between the uprights to form an unbroken guide for the drawers.

Each drawer slides between 1x 4-inch wood pieces screwed horizontally on the uprights. Distance from the bottom of one drawer to the bottom of another is determined by the depth of the drawer. For example a deeper drawer would be needed for bath towels than for linen.

SIDES ARE nailed to the closet wall studs after the introduction of required shims. The drawers should fit rather loosely so there will be no binding.

The drawers are constructed of 1x2-inch wood strips, nailed together with butt joints, and Masonite 3/16" Tempered Presdwood, nailed to the bottom with 1½" finishing nails. The dust-protectors on the front of the drawers serve also as pulls. They, too, are tempered hardboard. Six 1-inch screws are used to fasten the pulls to the drawers.

The installation may be left undecorated, as the dark brown color of the Presdwood is attractive, or the pulls may be primed and enameled. By using decalcomania or die-cut, paste-on letters, the homemaker can mark each drawer so its contents are evident at a glance.

For a free plan, showing how to make this battery of linen drawers, readers can write the Home service bureau, Suite 2039, 111 W. Washington st., Chicago 2, Ill.

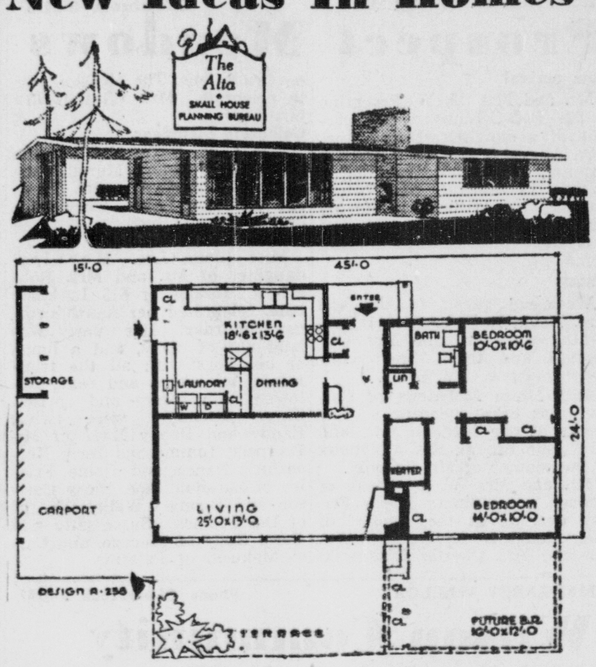
New Ideas In Homes



THE ALTA has plans that include the advantage of adding a third bedroom, location of the living room in the rear with full legnth windows overlooking the terrace, and combination kitchen dinette and utility room in the front.

Equipment in the kitchen includes wall cabinets, work counter, closet, cabinet in the dinette, storage closet and supply cabinets in the utility room. A folding partition opens the dinette into the living room.

The plan also shows a coat closet, hinged seat and planter in the front entry, centrally located heater room, fireplace, future outdoor grill, carport and tool garage.

Exterior finish is wide siding, low pitch roof, wide eaves, redwood carport louvres and storage.

Overall dimensions are 45 feet by 24 feet. Area totals 1,157 square feet, while the cubage is 11,000 cubic feet.

For further information about THE ALTA, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St Cloud, Minn.

About your health

A hernia is commonly known as a rupture. Actually there are several types of hernia, the commonest of which is the so-called inguinal hernia. The inguinal hernia is often found in the working man, but not necessarily one who is engaged in hard manual labor. In fact many of the hernias that develop are in individuals who have never done any hard labor, which indicates a weakness in the abdominal wall allows the hernia to occur.

While it is not certain heredity is a factor in the development of hernias, there is evidence that these so-called ruptures do occur frequently in father and son.

THE SMALL AREA where the thigh meets the body is called the inguinal area. When there is a weakness in the lower abdominal muscles, a protrusion results which, in reality is a sac containing the omentum or fat. The protrusion may also contain a portion of the small or large bowel, or the bladder. In other words the protrusion may contain any one of these organs of the body or any combination of them. The contents of the sac may be limited to the groin or extend into adjacent parts of the body.

Ordinarily the hernia contents can be returned or what is medically known as reduced back into the abdominal wall. Thus the hernia is termed reducible that is when the contents can be pushed back.

HOWEVER, over a period of years as the abdominal wall becomes weaker the size of the hernia may increase from pressure or irritation inflammation within the lining of the blood vessel wall which produces a thickening and a resultant narrowing of the luminal opening. In a diseased blood vessel, a deposit of a fatty substance, known as cholesterol, will be evident in the inner lining layer and the layer immediately beneath it. This is the abnormal deposition which occurs in the condition known as arteriosclerosis or hardening of the arteries.

Both conditions then produce not only a narrowing of the luminal opening, but also a loss of elasticity of these blood vessel walls. Thus the blood flow is not even and smooth as it should be, but more or less impeded and even obstructed. In addition to impairing the blood flow, the deposits and infections responsible for the narrowing of the blood vessels can produce such a pronounced narrowing that blood clots can be formed within the artery itself which ultimately may lead to the development of gangrene.

Weekly Recipe

When your garden begins producing tomatoes, keep this week's recipe at hand. Eggs in tomato baskets can be served for luncheon or dinner. They are attractive, full of vitamins, and welcomed by all who enjoy garden fresh tomatoes.

Eggs in Tomato Baskets

6 medium tomatoes
6 eggs
Butter
Salt
Cheese, if desired

Method: Cut a slice from the top of unpeeled tomato. Scoop out pulp and seeds. Sprinkle inside of tomato with salt and melted butter. Place in shallow baking pan. Drop egg in each tomato; add salt and dot with butter. Bake in preheated oven at 350 degrees until egg is set. Use pepper, if desired. This may be topped with grated cheese.

SMALL NARROW DINING ROOM?

Most frequent mistake made when arranging furniture in this type room is to place a tall china cupboard on a narrow end wall. This tends to emphasize the room's narrowness, and waste space. Your room plan will be much more pleasing, and space will be turned to better advantage if you . . .

USE A WALL-TO-WALL CHEST . . .

. . . or a pair of chests. The horizontal lines will make room appear wider than it is. Drawers will provide much-needed linen and silver storage. A horizontal arrangement of colorful prints, framed alike, will give a dramatic effect, and add color accent. This arrangement fits equally well into a modern, traditional or provincial room plan.

If you are faced with a room-planning problem, don't feel hesitant about coming in and discussing it with one of our decorators. We are always happy to be helpful in any way that we can. Come in soon, won't you?

We are trying to help you solve that ever-present-not-enough-storage space problem by searching out the best chests obtainable — in the sizes and styles that will meet your needs best.

Have you ever considered how much more attractive your dining room would look if you replaced that big table with a smart new drop leaf? We have several new styles of drop leaf tables (extend to banquet size when needed) in both light and dark finishes.

We are constantly adding to our stocks, and we're always delighted to have you make unhurried selections. Our welcome mat is always out.

Dr. Wendell C. Nystrom, dean of Wittenberg college, Springfield, O., has announced that Marjorie Payne, 709 S Ioka ave., Mt. Prospect, is on the "dean's list" because of outstanding scholastic achievement during the past semester.

The dean's list is an honor accorded those with averages between A and B. Miss Payne, a major in physical education, is serving as lifeguard and swimming instructor at Arlington Heights pool this summer and working for the United Press.

Coast Guard Looks For New Enlistments

The United States Coast Guard is now accepting for enlistment young men with no previous service between the ages of 17 and 25 or veterans not over 30 years of age. Many petty officer ratings are open to ex-servicemen and there is a choice of districts in which you can choose to serve. All men must pass a rigid physical examination and meet the educational requirements for entry into this select branch of the armed forces.

Because of increased quotas enlistments can be effected in from ten to thirty days. Further information may be obtained from your coast guard recruiting station.

Bits o' Business

A number of companies are expected to market shaving cream in air-pressure cans. They sell whipped cream that way—why not shaving cream? . . . The government has moved to increase nylon supply by 100 million pounds by granting tax write-off benefits for four new plants . . . Dacron, the new wonder fiber, however, will fall short of demand. Production will be doubled to six million pounds but demand is expected to rise even more sharply . . . One out of every three families now has a television set . . . For the first time in its 50-year history, "Financial World" will participate actively in the national non-partisan register-and-vote campaign. It will direct its effort to encourage all investor-savers to go to the polls.

Families Can Apply Now for Absentee Ballots for Servicemen

Monday was opening day of the period during which men and women in the armed services may apply for absentee ballots for the November 4 general election, secretary of state Edward J. Barrett said.

A new provision of the law, enacted in 1951, permits the mother, father, sister, brother, husband or wife of a man or woman in the service to request that the ballot be sent, Mr. Barrett pointed out. The requests should be presented to the county clerk in the home county of the person in the service.

The applications will be accepted until October 30 by the county clerks, in accordance with the law which sets the application period as not more than 100 days and not less than five days before the election, Secretary Barrett said.

The county clerks will have ballots available 45 days before the election for those whose applications are on file, and will mail them directly to the service men and women with return self-addressed envelopes. The ballots must be back in the offices of the county clerks by election day in order to be counted.

Secretary Barrett pointed out that these special provisions of the law apply only to service personnel. All others come under the civilian absentee voting laws.

This attractive living room in the home of Don Gasner, Milwaukee home builder, demonstrates possibilities for unusual effects which can be achieved with hardwood plywood wall paneling. In contrast to the white Roman brick of the fireplace wall, the darker paneling lends warmth and charm to the interior which is tastefully decorated in Chinese-modern motif. Easy to apply and maintain, plywood paneling derives its strength and permanence from crossbanding of the plies which makes it resistant to warping, cracking or splitting.

NORM'S GROCERY AND WULBECKERS NAMED TO PADDOCK GOLF TOURNEY

Football is with us again. Next week Friday the Chicago all-star game pries the lid off the football season in the Chicago area. The college all-stars, with much better personnel than a year ago, are not likely to be shellacked again as they were in 1951, though the Los Angeles Rams will be as good as any recent pro team playing in this late summer gridiron extravaganza. The game is a powerful drawing card even though it is played too early to ever be a real test. The old masters of the coaching game say the all-stars cannot figure to do much running against the pros unless they spend most of their time developing a good passing attack to spread the defense. They do not have time enough to develop a coordinated and polished running attack. Passing has been the salvation of the all-stars in the past and with McColl, the Stanford All-American on the receiving end, it will no doubt be the offense emphasized this year.

High School Practice Opens August 25

August 25 is not far away and that is the date state high school regulations permit prep teams to start practice. At all schools in the area practice will start on that date unless local conference rules prescribe no practice until school opens September 2. The weekend before the 25th there will be physical examinations and checking out of equipment in preparation for the opening day in order that squads may get down to business of learning football without delay.

High school teams are required to have three full weeks of practice before playing any games and this means each individual. The boy late reporting or who misses practice cannot play in the opening game if it comes the second weekend in September.

Red Sportsmanship and Black Skill Show Up In Olympic Games

The Olympic games are over and the United States came from behind to win the unofficial title on the final day. There is no denying Russia has gone a long way in sports to accomplish a showing such as they made in their first Olympic appearance. From all reports the Russian men and women who competed showed excellent sportsmanship and a friendly attitude toward their opponents. Certainly they have come a long way in basketball to play the Americans such a close game in the finals.

The press behind the Iron Curtain was not, of course, sportsmanlike in the way they called their shots. One of the most unkind cracks of all was that the colored men and women should be representing Africa and were not real Americans. The contribution of colored people to the Olympic victory was without question an outstanding one, particularly in track and boxing.

Hogan Tries to Repeat This Week at Tam For $25,000

Out at May's colorful Tam O'Shanter Golf club "Slammin' Sam" Snead took the All-American championship Sunday with a remarkable performance to salt away about $3,500, but this was chicken feed compared to the $25,000 awaiting the survivor of the world's championship tourney this week ending Sunday. Snead has stayed out of several tournaments lately to be sharp for the big money at Tam and it paid off.

Of course little Ben Hogan stayed out of the prelim just as he did last year, and he will be the man to beat this week in the big test. He won it last year and is a really tough golfer when there is a lot of cash on the line.

Doug Winkelman In No-Hitter For Mt. Prospect

Doug Winkelmann was the hero Monday when he twirled the Mt. Prospect Legion to a no-hit victory at Glenview, 5-1. Doug fanned 16 and walked two as his mates gave him a bit of margin, more than needed this particular day.

Winkelmann looked good all the way with great defensive play, both infield and outfield, backing him up in spite of four errors. The losers tallied their loner on a walk and an error.

Gene Dassonville led his winning mates at the plate with two triples until a bruised finger in the bottom of the sixth forced him to retire from the plate in favor of Ed Blake, who performed creditably.

Remaining games for the Mt. Prospect team includes Park Ridge at Arlington Thursday and a grudge affair with Heights this week end.

Close Race in Arlington League For Tourney Entry

Lingren's Men's Wear, by taking 7½ points from Dunteman's Dairy, remained in first place in the Arlington Heights Twilight golf league after eight nights of play. Tied for second are Jahn's Service and Lohr's Pharmacy, only 2½ scores out of first. This makes an interesting race for the entry in Paddock Publications Inter-League handicap tournament August 17. The entrant in this tournament will be determined after results of Friday's play have been compiled.

Arlington Bowling Lanes moved into the fourth slot last Friday, only 4½ points out of first. This team could be the dark horse in the race for tournament entry.

TODY'S LOUNGE took 9½ from Borgardt's Sinclair with Dick Dieball leader for the former, chalking up his best game of the year, a 40-7-33, good for three. For Borgardt's, Ed Hill earned 1½ scores.

Schiller Carpet, in its duel with Arlington Bowling, managed to take only 2½ scores. Leader for the latter was Jerry Rogers, who enjoyed his best game of the season, a 43-11-32, good for three.

Myron Kuhlman recorded a good-for-three 37 gross for Lohr's Pharmacy, thus enabling this team to take eight from Arlington Bank. For the Bank five-some it was Ken Fuhr pounding out a 41-6-35, good for two.

LEADERS FOR Jahn's Service in its competition with Black's Memorial were Tony Felker with a 36-4-32, good for 2½, and John Eiler with a 40-8-32, good for 2½. These are best-of-the-year scores for Tony and John, who seem to do their best when the "pressure" is on. This feature is characteristic of a winning team. For Black's it was Bill Jurs coming through with his best, a 40-8-32, good for 2½.

Clarence Horcher placed his best score of the season in the books Friday night, earning three points for Lingren's Men's Wear with a 42-12-30. Someone on that team always manages to sparkle with a good score to keep the team in first place. That's a winning quality. For Dunteman's, Bill McGregor scored a 39-8-31, good for 1½ scores.

MAR JOHNSON'S stepped out of the cellar in taking 7½ from Lauterburg and Oehler. Star for Mar's was Alternate Art Davis with a 45-11-34, good for three. Art has been the spark for every team he has played for, compiling 18½ points for himself and is the top alternate in the scoring department.

Standings:

Lingren's Men's Wear	58½
Jahn's Service	56
Lohr's Pharmacy	56
Arlington Bowling Lanes	54
Tody's Lounge	49
Borgardt's Sinclair	47½

Shave Edge of Busse Motors in Mt. Prospect Golf

Busse Motors, unable to win more than four points last Wednesday evening, found its lead narrowed to 3 2/3 points as the second place Van Driel's Drug Store team edged 5½ points from their opponents to once again put pressure on the leaders of the Wednesday division of the Mt. Prospect twilight golf league.

In the individual matches it is very fitting to again call attention to the excellent manner in which Len Johnson Jr. is performing of late. Lennie came in with a one under par, 34 for the evening, scoring birdies on both the 10th and 12th at the Mount Prospect Country Club. Other birdies were scored by Carl Oscarson the 1st, Walt Oberlander the 5th, Tommy Hawk the 7th, Bob Virgil the 13th and Dick Kimbrough the very sporty 8th.

My apologies to Mrs. Kimbrough for failure to report other birdies scored by Dick in the past. It just goes to prove that you can't believe what you don't see in the paper. An oversight was apparently made by one of us.

Team standings:

Busse Motors	72 5/6

To Meet Friday

Bowlers of the Palatine House league, rolling at Hi-Way Recreation, will hold an organizational meeting Friday night, August 8. The session will start at 8 p.m., according to secretary Dave Anderson.

Midwest Park Teams Have Big Chance

Arlington Heights park district traveling baseball team has a big opportunity this Friday afternoon when Park Ridge comes to town, three-team-strong. If the Heights midgets can win their end of the day's activities they'll sew up first place for the summer season.

In the junior setup, Arlington dealt Park Ridge its first loss this past week. By winning Friday recreation director Russ Attis' boys will tie for first, necessitating a playoff game.

THE JUNIORS had a big five run inning against Park Ridge this past week to win, 5-4. Ashley and Stocking walked, Boeger singled, and Randag was safe on a fielder's choice. Swanson and Bragni walked, Summers singled, Webber walked and Sujack singled. That was enough for five scores.

Park Ridge scored one run in the first, two in the second inning, and a loner in the sixth. Two different times the losers had the bags loaded, but Arlington tightened to permit just one score.

It'll be Norm's Grocery of Roselle and Wulbecker Furniture of Rob Roy golf leagues in Paddock Publications Inter-League handicap next Sunday, August 17, at Mount Prospect country club. The former won by seven points, the latter ranks first by a half. This makes three leagues to date which have selected entrants for the tournament.

Most thrilling finish of this week's league play to determine eligible teams for the newspaper sponsored affair was in the Rob Roy Tuesday night league. Wulbecker Furniture had a three point margin over L-Nor Cleaners last week. Tuesday the furniture men slipped and made just 2½ points, but the cleaners didn't do much better, garnering just five to lose in the standings of the first two squads, 54½-54.

TEEING OFF for the Wulbeckers will be sponsor Paul, Harvey Laufman, Carl Hammerl and Ray Haase. None of them ever competed in the Paddock tournament before.

Performing for Norm's grocery foursome of Roselle will be John Troyke with 8 handicap for 18 holes, Richard Hitzeman with 14, Alfred Engel with 16 and Norman Pfortmiller with 21. Alternate is Bob Buckholtz with 22.

The Bensenville VFW team made the first entry last week, with four more loops still to report. Eligible deadline is this Friday night, with two Mount Prospect, Arlington Heights and St. James leagues still battling.

THE STORY behind the story of the Paddock tournament reveals that L-Nor Cleaners lost its third chance to participate in the Paddock golf meet by that lone half point. They finished sixth and seventh in 1950, operating in both St. James and Rob Roy leagues. This season they rate 13th thus far in the church loop.

Another repeater in the newspaper links event, Hugh's Auto Body Shop, took second in 1950, fourth in '51. This year they didn't do so well, faring fifth and 19½ points out as of Monday night.

Individuals who have already competed in Paddock golf tournaments and still rating a chance in this one include Kinnaman, first alternate of the Bensenville entry; Ed Maha, one of Hook's Nursery champs in '51, now in first place in the Mount Prospect Wednesday loop with Busse Motors; Vince Carlson, champ in '51, now in second spot in the same league on the Van Driel Drug Store aggregation. Just three points separated the two teams prior to Wednesday night's competition.

In the Arlington Heights league two members of the champion Arlington Heights National Bank team of 1950 can make this year's meet. They are Bud McKaig, in first by 2½ with Lingren's Men's Wear, and Tony Felker, tied for second with Jahn's Service Station.

Going into the deadline night of play in St. James league Urick Landscapers were 2½ points ahead of Prospect Heights Service Station.

DOWN MT. PROSPECT way in the Tuesday division, Golden's Food Shop had the inside track by 2½ points over Commissioner Busse team, and an additional 2/3 point advantage over Whitton's Realtors. The latter took fifth in the meet last year.

When final call is made by noon Saturday, August 9, entry list of 28 individuals of leading teams in seven local leagues will be complete and everything will be set for the big event eight days later.

Tee-off time at Mount Prospect will be at 12:30 with pairings released next week. Golfers will be ranked according to handicaps, the better players meeting their own competition. The entire tournament is being directed by Paddock sports editor G. A. McElroy, assisted by Bob Paddock at the publication office.

El Rando Beats Niles For League Trophy

Although no softball league is functioning this year in Arlington Heights, the situation has not discouraged the El Rando team. El Rando is currently entered in two leagues, the Des Plaines and the Suburban, and is bringing the name of an Arlington softball team to towns throughout the Chicago area.

El Rando, managed by Rollo Weide, annexed the championship of Des Plaines' loop Tuesday evening. In winning their eighth straight league game against no losses, the squad turned back Niles, 6-2. Weide's Raiders, with Jim Giesler and Bill Wille pitching, have turned in an overall season's record of 17 wins and 4 losses against the best opposition available.

ALTHOUGH joining the Suburban league at a late date, El Rando finished its first round with a 2-2 record. Teams from Evanston, Park Ridge and Skokie make up the nucleus of this loop.

El Rando is no fly by night outfit. Under Fritz Brehm's management, the squad officially joined the Arlington league in 1949, and continued play in both Palatine and Arlington loops through 1951.

Weide took over the managing job this spring, after illness forcer Brehm to retire. Adding three players from Mount Prospect AC's disbanded team, El Rando began taking on all comers.

BILL WILLE, 6'4" pitcher and outfielder, Bob Wille, a glue fingered shortstop, and Marty Hase, a hustling outfielder, all added strength to Weide's club.

These three, with veteran performers like Bob Haseman, Eric Nelson, Eddie Kostka, Boots McDougal, Les Haseman, Phil Roche, Jim Giesler, Howie Gosch, and Weide, combined to develop El Rando into one of the area's outstanding softball teams.

The squad also has nowcomers Dale Christie and John Leark to fill the replacement list.

GENERAL MANAGER Albert F. Volz handles the team's financial department, and David Linck is the batboy.

Thursday night, August 7, El Rando fans will see the Des Plaines title holders face the Bensenville VFW softballers at Arlington Recreation park. Game time is slated for 7 p.m.

Palatine Motors Host Sunday To Libertyville

Oak Park's Amvets, who tangle with the league-leading Libertyville Comets Friday evening, gained ground in their drive for first place in the Northern Illinois fastball league during the past week by copping a double header from visiting Highland Park, 2-1 and 8-2.

The Amvets won the opener in extra innings, coming from behind to send the contest into an overtime. Jack Tracey chalked up his third decision in holding the Merchants to five hits in this game while Earl Shelton won his second start in holding his victims to five taps.

Palatine's Ned Wickersham still leads the loop batters with a .371 average while Oak Park's Augie Jacobs picked up ground during the week to bring his mark to .359. The Amvets' Boomer Franz became the third hitter to go above the .300 mark by lining out four hits to raise his mark to .317.

Mt. Prospect Merchants Tip Edgebrook, Oak Park

The Mount Prospect Merchants added two more victories to their record to make it 17 wins and two losses.

Wednesday evening, July 30, they traveled to Edgebrook to play the Edgebrook Merchants, a team of Pony league age. Thill, Mount Prospect pitcher, was in rare form as he struck out the first 11 men to face him. He allowed just one hit which came after two were out in the last inning.

It was a nip and tuck ball game until the first of the fourth when the Mount Prospect boys uncorked four hits in a row for three runs and the winning margin. The game ended with a winning, 3-0.

MONDAY AFTERNOON, August 4, the Merchants met and defeated Oak Park, 20 to 3. This team, coached by Jimmy Holste, had defeated them, 5-3, in a previous meeting.

Soenkson, Nau and Bodeker led the Merchants hitting attack and Soenkson, Thill and Peterson pitched good ball allowing Oak Park a total of four hits.

Mount Prospect's unofficial little leaguers would like to book games with any Little league teams who will play them.

Wednesday, August 6, they met Oak Park and Friday they travel to Harlem and Greenfield for an afternoon contest.

Bill Golden was ready to throw in the sponge on his team in the Tuesday division of the Mt. Prospect twilight golf league way back on June 18. His team was in fifth place, just three points out of seventh.

Today, the Golden's Food Shop boys are in first place. They've played good golf the past month and last Tuesday took seven points from the Henry Kruse Schlitzers to knock the Commissioner Busse team back into second two and one-half points behind.

Otherwise, the standings remain about the same, with no team managing to do much better than break even.

THERE ARE ONLY four matches remaining in this season's play, so it looks like an exciting stretch run. Any one of the first five teams can end up victor in this close race.

Ed Planert scored birdies on the 13th and 15th holes. Ed just happens to be the D class player on that first place Golden team. No wonder they're in first place.

Other players scoring birdies were Mike Croft, Elmer Walters, Bill Taylor, Bill Greiling, T. C. Taylor, and Harry Ball.

Tuesday standings:

Palatine Legion Loses to Heights, Wins Two Others

Palatine lost to Arlington Heights, 4-3, and beat Northlake, 10-0, in ninth district Junior Legion baseball the past week. The Arlington jinx prevailed as in previous games. They made four hits produce four runs as Frank Hummel of Palatine issued costly bases on balls in the sixth and seventh innings. Palatine led, 1-0, the first five innings and was on top, 3-2, going into the final frame.

Arlington, in their last time at bat, sewed up the game on a triple by Sieburg, walks to Verret and Simmons, and a bunt by Bakalar which squeezed the run home. Wayne Hesch's hit brought in the winning score.

Bakalar had two hits for Arlington and Tinker Meyer two for Palatine.

Pitching for Arlington was Bob Simmons, who struck out ten, walked four and allowed five hits.

"Tinker" Meyer allowed only three hits and shut out Northlake, 10-0. Abrahamson and Schrage each polled out two hits for Palatine, with one of Schrage's a homer. To date Schrage is batting .444, Kennie Rehusch .389, Frank Hummel .300. Dick Abrahamson .375, and Tinker Meyer .270. The Palatine team has a .260 batting mark.

In a return non-league game with Glenview played last week end Palatine won an easy 12-1 decision in six innings. Kenneth Rehusch got four hits including two home runs and Paul Schrage slammed out a single, triple, and home run. Meyer pitched and allowed only two hits while aiding his own cause with a home run.

4-3 Redwing Margin Washed Out Sunday

Arlington Redwings saw a 4-3 margin go down the drain Sunday afternoon at Recreation park when rain after the fourth inning cancelled the rest of the day's activity against Erickson Boosters.

The game will be replayed Sunday, August 17, as will the other playoff contest between the Stanfa Scouts and Aldeman Keane Boosters. These four squads are all that remain of the league team fighting for tourney honors.

This Sunday the Redwings will entertain Franklin Park at 3 p. m., hoping to repeat a former 7-0 victory for the locals.

Keefer Pharmacy Legion Nine Drops Three Games in a Row

Mt. Prospect's Legion nine, sponsored by Keefer's Pharmacy, dropped three games in a row last week. Behrentz shut them out, 1-0, Barrington trounced them, 11-6, and Franklin Park edged the locals, 8-3, in five innings.

Against Behrentz, Ed Linnemann pitched excellent ball, allowing but four hits and three walks. However, Behrentz' ace pitcher, Mike Stichhoff, held the fighting Prospect nine to one safety, a single by Blake in the sixth.

Lone run of the contest was tallied in the fifth inning when Andersen singled, stole second, advanced to third on an infield out, and scored on a squeeze bunt.

BARRINGTON overcame an early Mt. Prospect lead to romp over the Keefermen, 11-6. Reid started for the local squad and was relieved by Linnemann after permitting seven runs on five hits and eight walks.

Munn notched two singles and Goetschel, Dassonville, LeMay and Butler hit one each for the Prospectors.

Franklin Park took advantage of poor defensive play by the Mt. Prospect nine and scored five runs in the third on only two hits and two passes. Butler pitched fair ball but errors and infield blows spelled trouble. Three more runs in the fifth sewed things up for the Franklin Parkers.

Wheeling LL Drubs Niles in Four Innings

The Wheeling All Star Little Leaguers pounded out nine hits good for seven runs in four innings to lead Niles, 7-3, with but one out in the last of the fourth when the rains came.

Ted Bartmann, Wheeling pitcher, allowed but one hit, walked two, and struck out eight in four innings. Wildness in the third inning cost Wheeling two runs. Niles added a third run in the fourth on a hit by Meier and a wild throw by the catcher.

Wheeling scored one run in the first, two in the third, and four in the fourth and only had one out when the rain halted the game.

IN THE FOURTH, R. Randolph was safe on an error by the first baseman. L. Cokenower got a single to right, Nehmer followed with a single, Rudolph scoring, and Cokenower going to third. Dever's ground ball was turned into a force out of Nehmer with Cokenower scoring. With Dever on first, Jesse came to bat and hit a long home run over the left center field fence approximately 190 feet from home plate. At this point it began to rain and the game was called.

Leading the hitting for Wheeling was Nehmer with three for three, Jesse with two for two and L. Cokenower with two for three. Besides Jesse's homer, Nehmer hit one in the third but missed second base and was called out.

$25,000 Pacing Derby At Sportsman's Park

Sportsman's Park harness race meeting will reach the zenith Friday night, Aug. 8, when 12 horses will strive for the $25,000 purse in the Pacing Derby.

The contending field of 12 pacers lists those which have survived a series of trials and the survivors are fully qualified to bid for the big pot of gold.

As a result of the trials to date Red Sails, owned by H. T. King, Lynn, Ind., and driven by Gene Riegle, second driver in rankings for the meeting, has been installed favorite with the public.

Chief contention will be provided by Choice Hanover and Scottish Boy, or so the railbirds opine.

Red Sails, sired by The Abbot, has won five straight races at Sportsman's Park and through such consistency has gained a legion of admirers.

Choice Hanover gave evidence of his class, as the 5 year old son of Dean Hanover won the second Derby trial, the first division, in 2:04 2/5 for the mile with Stan Stucker in the sulky.

Scottish Boy, owned by Carl H. Priehs, of Pana, Ill., and driven by Bob Wagner, has won seven straight races and seems determined to keep right on in his victory stride.

Rams Aim at Flock of Records Against All-Stars

The Los Angeles Rams, most explosive scoring team in professional football history, will be aiming at a flock of records when they participate in the 19th annual college all-star game in Chicago's Soldiers' Field the night of August 15.

The Chicago Bears, in 1941, gained 486 yards in their 37 to 13 victory over the All-Stars and this is the high mark in that department. Target for the Rams' double-barrelled passing attack featuring Bob Waterfield and Norm Van Brocklin will be the 306 yards rolled up by Cecil Isbell and the Green Bay Packers in their 1940 conquest of the collegians, 45 to 28, the highest scoring match of the competition. The Packers also won the record for rushing in one game, 259 yards in 1945, when they whipped the All-Stars, 19 to 7.

THE BEARS racked up 19 first downs in 1941, but this record was tied in 1949 by the Philadelphia Eagles in their 38 to 0 whitewash of the collegians, most decisive score in the series.

The Rams also will threaten the record of 22 completed passes made by the Washington Redskins in 1943 when they lost, 27 to 7.

Green Bay's six touchdowns in 1940 is high for the pros. The All-Stars of 1938 and 1940 crossed the pros' goal line four times.

These are the major records of the series.

Snow Ordered For Meet Sunday

Two hundred thousand pounds of that white fluffy snow, uncommon to Chicago residents in the month of August, will be delivered in the form of solid ice to Fox River Grove, August 10, to be used for the second annual summer ski jump on the Norge hill.

Three large ice machines will grind the 200-lb. ice blocks into snow and blow it on the new, enlarged summer hill. The snow is then sprayed with a chemical called "snow cement" preserving the snow for the afternoon and assuring a fast track. All this activity will start about 10:00 Sunday morning and be ready for the ski-jumpers at 3:00 p. m. who will compete for top honors and the many fine awards.

Art Tokle and Billy Olsen, U.S. Olympic team members, head the list of 95 skiers entered.

The Hill brothers, Clarence and Earl, Class A and B national champions respectively, will be on hand to try to take honors from the Olympic boys.

The entry list reads like a Who's Who in Skiing, with other power jumpers like Eugene Wilson, Birn Blikstedt, Jacob Sorensen and Chicago's own Sig Malvig, Charles Sedivec and Bob Immens.

Sportsmen Push Bill To Take Politics Out of Conservation

The Illinois federation of sportsmen's clubs will introduce a bill in the next session of the legislature, designed to allow for non-political administration of the state department of conservation. The bill is being drawn up well in advance of the 1953 session, in fact, it will probably take the form of two bills, one to create a bi-partisan board to administer the department of conservation and assure a continuity of conservation policy beyond changes in administration on a non-partisan basis.

The second bill will propose a merit system for employees of the department which again will insure those employees of security in their jobs regardless of the political party they belong to. If they do a good job they can hope to keep the job — if they don't, they can be fired without regard to their political backing.

Pick Cover Subjects

Covers for football programs at University of Illinois home football games this year will present a series of full-color reproductions of famous scenes on the U. of I. campus.

Designs were made from original color phtographs made by Perry Gliessman of Champaign. Included are views of Mumford Hall, University Library, Altgeld Hall, Chief Illiniwek with Memorial Stadium in the background, and Captain Al Brosky and End Rex Smith standing before the historic Alma Mater statue created by the late Lorado Taft.

American Derby Worth 170 Gs At Washington

Two nationally-prominent, major racing events headline the second week of Washington Park's 31-day stand with the 42nd running of the $150,000 American Derby and the eleventh renewal of the rich Meadowland Handicap on grass.

The Derby, final summer prize for three-year-olds, is on deck Saturday with the Arlington Classic winner, Calumet Farm's Mark-Ye-Well, aiming at being the sixth thoroughbred to win both the Chicago sophomore features in one season.

AT A MILE and an eighth, the American Derby is the first of three Washington Park stakes which will gross $100,000 or better. On August 23, the $110,000 Washington Park Futurity will be up for grabs for two-year-olds, and on Labor Day, September 1, the $170,000 Washington Park Handicap will keep the three-year-old-and-up division busy trying to take down the $115,000 first money.

There are 73 three-year-olds eligible for the historical American Derby, which was inaugurated during the old Washington Park opening season in 1884. Heavy nominations and the lure of the potential $105,000 first money, $25,000 for second, $12,500 for third and $6,250 for fourth brought the gross to approximately $150,000. That makes the Derby a co-owner of the world's record for three-year-old stakes value. The Classic became the world's richest event for sophomores and the American Derby will at least equal that mark Saturday.

Bits o' Business

While U. S. newsprint output this year tops the same 1951 period by seven per cent and is 11 per cent over the 1941, pre-war rate, consumption has risen so rapidly we now import over 80 per cent of our needs compared with 70 per cent in 1941 . . . The Bureau of Labor Statistics concludes that by 1975 the average man can look forward to nine years of retirement before dying compared with six years today and three in 1900 . . . Chain and mail order sales were $3.1 billion in May, up two per cent over April and nine per cent over May 1951 . . . Not that children drink, but the 83,718,067 barrels of beer consumed in America last year evens out to 17.1 gallons for every man, woman and child. In 1950 consumption was 82,801,693 barrels and in 1947 (the record) 87,076,141 barrels went down the hatch.

Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money." — H. C. Paddock, 1898-1935

Fifty Years Ago

AUGUST 9, 1902

Palatine military band will give their first annual picnic at Plum Grove.

Palatine village board passes a tax levy of $2,500.

Five new homes were added to the Wheeling exchange. They are J. A. Schmidke, Dr. Seegletz, R. H. Perliaot, Fred Helm, and probably the depot. The brewery ought to have one so the farmers can save shoe leather.

Henry Salge, Schaumburg, saw a pin in front of the Quindel saloon a few days ago. Bending down to get it, his hat fell off and rolled into the mud, his glasses fell and broke on the pavement, his suspenders gave way and busted the buttonhole in back of his shirt collar and all but lost his false teeth, but he got the pin.

The new St. John's German Ev. church will be located one block north of Arlington hall on two lots purchased for $800.

Arlington Heights is a lively town and has many features which are not hampered by any puritanical feeling, is wide open and Sunday is the best day for sporting and more profitable for the saloon keeper. This is the only town along the line which enjoys perfect freedom.

● POLITICAL POT

The big conventions are over and the political pot is simmering all over the stove as voters are trying to make up their minds just what they are going to do in November.

Pleas of party leaders to "stay with the party" are falling on a lot of deaf ears in both camps as the disgusted voters try to figure out their next move.

A group of four fellows met at dinner in a Chicago restaurant one day last week, two were Republicans and two were Democrats, all four were disgusted with the pick of their conventions.

An hour's discussion took place at which the four dispassionately discussed the candidates and the issues. When the dinner party broke up, one fellow remarked, "Well, from our talk this noon it looks as if one Republican and one Democrat were going to vote for Eisenhower, and that one Democrat and one Republican are going to vote for Stevenson. If our group here is a cross section of the voting public, it looks as if the coming election in November would be a mixed up race liable to end in a photo finish with anyone coming out on top."

And that's the sort of thing you hear on all sides with the big question among the voters being "what have we got to choose between, both candidates stand for the same thing."

We heard an interesting discussion the other day about what should be done by the real Republican voters. We will present his views in a later issue. He has some novel ideas about how to vote to save the party.

● WIDESPREAD

We have heard comments about some of our political articles recently from Washington state to Florida. It just shows how widespread is the circulation of Paddock Publications from the rugged shores of Puget Sound to the sun-kissed waves of the Atlantic. Yeh, these papers sure do get around.

● FLORIDA VISIT

George Schroeder has been visiting relatives down in Florida and word from him is to the effect that he has been having a grand time looking over the orange groves and the tropical scenery of that country. We expect a full report from George when he returns.

● THE PELICAN

Yes, we know that the pelican is a bird, but it also turns out to be a newspaper, a newspaper published at New Smyrna Beach, Florida.

In a recent issue of the Pelican was a picture and big story about Bill DePue who has just opened a fine new real estate office in that city. The story gave Bill a big send off recounting all his past record of accomplishments before locating in Florida.

We knew that Bill was a golfer, fisherman and hunter, but the Pelican story gave a new slant on his social activities. He and Mrs. DePue are members of the New Smyrna Beach Yacht club.

The New Smyrna Beach news of about the same time also carried a big story about Bill and a picture of him, and both papers carried a big "ad" of Bill's with a lot of real estate listings showing that he is right on the ball getting that new office of his in operation.

● REPORTS

When the village board used to pass their appropriation ordinance, we were able to wangle a copy out of the clerk the next day, but this year copies were handed out to the board members and the press before the meeting. Also copies of a financial statement for the past fiscal year that gave a clear and comprehensive idea of just where the village got its revenue and how it was spent.

In over thirty years on the village hall beat, this was the most complete and concise financial statement we had ever seen. We hear that this report was compiled by Elaine Schwolow, assistant village clerk. She did a fine job.

● AROUND AGAIN

Herman Reese, who has been under the weather for some time in an Elgin hospital, was about town the other day greeting old friends and glad to be getting around again. Mr. Reese, who is one of Palatine's old timers, has been a familiar sight about town for many years and his old friends were indeed glad to see him.

● STILL BOASTING

Tom Norman, the inveterate promoter, is still going strong in the promotion business according to word from Traverse City, Mich., where Tom is managing a drive-in theater.

Copies of Traverse City newspapers received in Palatine showed some of Tom's advertising ability and Bill Kehe, who recently dropped in on the Norman's, says that he's the same old Tom, and that he's packing them in at the "drive-in" which he is managing.

Next winter we expect to see the Normans forsake the rigors of our northern winters for the more genial climate of the Ozarks, where Tom has become a property owner.

● KATYDIDS

About the first of August, George Kellogg reported that the katydids had made their appearance and a frost would be forthcoming in six weeks. According to that old weather forecast, that would bring us a killing frost along about September 15, which is plenty early in these parts.

There also have been other signs of an early fall. The flies, which usually don't get too pesky before early in September, have been biting and pestiferous for weeks now, which may be a sign that they think fall is coming and are hunting up a place to keep warm.

● ADEQUATE WATER

Palatine folks who remember last year's big railroad wreck which shut off village water supply in certain parts of town for a couple of days, are keenly aware of the need for a plentiful water supply.

This summer, with the record breaking hot weather, the consumption of water has been heavy and the pumps on the two shallow wells of the village have been forced to work overtime, sometimes going as long as 20 hours a day, when a pump should not operate over eight hours.

Monday, August 18, the voters of the village will vote on the proposition of authorizing a $70,000 bond issue for the construction of a deep well, purchase of land for the location of the well, suitable pumping station and pumping equipment, together with the construction of a large conecting main on Cedar street.

● A LOT OF MONEY

Arlington Park at its recent successful race meeting handled a total of $40,234,385 through the mutuel machines, an average daily handle of $1,117,622 for an increase over last year of 20.31%. Attendance at the meeting was also up 12.78% over last year.

The State of Illinois was a big beneficiary of that big mutuel handle, more than $2,000,000 going to the state as their share of "the take."

The racing game in Illinois pays a huge amount of money annually into the state treasury and is one of the state's big sources of income.

Editor Writes 'It's True What They Say About The West,' But Is Anxious to Come Back Home

It is nearly 2,000 miles between Mexico and Canada and after traveling the entire distance, besides several hundred miles in Canada, the vacationing Editor of Paddock Publications has discovered a few things. He feels like a kid from the country who is making his first visit to the big city.

He found Seattle has no flies or mosquities, window screens, lightning or thunder. No hot weather should be included, although one day motoring through eastern Washington reminded him of a week of 100 in the shade back home.

HE HAS ALWAYS been proud of paved roads of Cook county. Here he finds the highway between Olympia and Seattle—60 miles of roadway—50 feet wide in place of the customary 40 feet. The extra 10 feet provides a lane for those desiring to make a left hand turn.

One of the downtown markets in Seattle solved the parking problem by providing parking facilities on the third and fourth floor of the building it occupies.

Recently when the USS General Hausey brought back more than 2,000 boys from Korea, all the whistles in the city were blowing, fire tugs were out in the Sound throwing water in the air, and two bands welcomed the boys at the pier. The trucks and buses that took the boys to Ft. Lewis went through Seattle's main street where ticker tape and confetti were thrown out windows. Such a welcome is given for every ship that comes in.

THE HEAVIEST logging operation the editor came in contack with was on the Olympian Peninsula, where trucks were hauling logs 3 to 6 feet thick. They travel, fully loaded, fifty miles an hour. Occasional pile ups of logs on the curves are evidence that some truck had lost its load.

His host tried to tell him the people in the West take time for everything. The speed in which they drive belies such a claim.

They do take time to grow flowers, especially on Vancouver Island, where Victoria is located. It is a rare home that doesn't have more space devoted to flowers than it does to lawns. A small "mountain" of stone may be rising out of the ground in the front yard, but there are flowers all around it.

THE EDITOR got enough thrill out of motoring over one way roads around and around the Canadian Rockies, without any desire to explore or attempt any hiking. He hung onto the door handle, thankful the car was hanging onto the road, especially when an approaching vehicle forced the car he was riding in within inches of a brink several hundred feet deep.

The thousands of lakes in this country are not conducive to swimming, because within a few feet from shore there are drops of 10, 15 or more feet. They make up for it, however, by their beauty.

Distance is very deceiving. Something that looks within walking distance is actually 10 or 15 miles away. Some of the scenic views cover thirty or forty miles.

HE LEARNED a great deal about the method of irrigation, especially from the Grand Coulee dam, the largest in the world. Desert land many miles away is being irrigated and growing fine crops.

Western people brag a lot about their country. Southern California talks about its sunshine and perfect weather, not mentioning the hours and hours of lawn and garden sprinkling that is necessary. Seattle people talk about "God's country" and, with 80 degree temperatures high for the summer, make fun of the hot weather in Chicago. Although a spray of water may blow constantly at the foot of the hill on which your home is located, every householder has to do a lot of sprinkling.

SAN FRANCISCO guides say they have the finest fogs of any city on earth. "We have everything except sunshine," one of them bragged yesterday. They even brag about the cause of the fogs—"Southern California hot weather brought in by Japanese currents and coming in contact with Alaskan air."

While women wear light coats, the men wear the usual summer clothes, not top coats. Tourists are the only ones who wear straw hats.

These San Franciscans even brag about the number of suicides from the Bay bridge—176 so far.

THEY ALSO BOAST of the number of Chinese who live in the city. Have not heard anyone boasting about the number of hotels, but the Editor believes there are more hotels, apartment houses and night clubs than in any city many times its size.

The hills cars must climb to get around town are frightening. The old style cable cars are still here. They are small and hold few passengers. The conductor and motorman both apply the brakes when going down hill.

The "Barbary Coast" is barbary in name only. The chief of police issued an order today limiting the number of "bumps" strip teasers can perform without getting arrested. He observed, "Nudity is permitted provided the nude person stands still."

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

from PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

One of the many dreams Bob and I have for our family is to visit, some day, the European countries. To be sure, it's a big dream—but after all, if one doesn't have dreams how can they ever be fulfilled? At any rate, whether or not this dream of ours comes true, I do think that parents who have the opportunity to take their children to see and spend some time in the other countries of our world are providing them with an education not to be equaled in the classroom.

Next best to actually visiting foreign countries is to read some of the excellent books written about them. I remember as a child being thrilled by the Madelaine Brandeis books about children in various countries. Very cleverly, the author combined in the books education as well as entertainment to produce a delightfully palatable mixture for young minds. I acquired, as presents, on different occasions, the complete set and now am looking forward to reading them to our children. I believe that the reading of those early books was largely responsible for my continuing interest in that type of literature and even now would choose a book such as the one I have just finished, "Denmark is a Lovely Land," over much of our contemporary fiction — too often lacking worthwhile thought, inspiration, stimulation or even a good plot!

THE FIRST LINE of Denmark's national anthem begins, "There is a lovely land . . ."—to read Hudson Strode's eloquent and graphic descriptions of the Danish people, customs and country is to be convinced that these words are surely true.

Denmark is a country of contrasts. In the cities, such as Copenhagen— "a champagne-colored city with tones of subdued apricot and that whitish blue-green of aged copper," are to be found the gayest of night-clubs, "plush" and expensive supper clubs and restaurants, thriving industry and the most modern of architecture in beautifully designed apartment buildings, while in the streets and boulevards, bicycles provide fifty per cent of the transportation!

Dotting the gently rolling meadows of the countryside, are quaint, small thatched-roof cottages, while not far away, may be found one of the massive, ancient castles in which a titled family may live.

JUST AS the country they love so much, so too are the Danes a people of contrasts. Fun-loving and gay they are fond of people, food and drink, small family gatherings and grand scale entertainment, such as the Tivoli Gardens—an amusement park, referred to as "the capital of Copenhagen," which provides all manner of rides for the thrill-seekers, several dance pavilions and restaurants and daily concerts.

They are also a serious and soundminded people — thirsting for education and self improvement. This fact is evidenced by a unique type of school called, "The Folk high school." A learned and religious man named Grundtvig, living at the time of the breakdown of the feudal system and later the Napoleonic Wars (which left Denmark in a terribly depressed state), believed that the Danish people were in grave need of enlightenment if their country was ever again to become a progressive and prosperous state.

HIS DREAM was to provide schools for the sons and daughters of the peasantry who, upon completing their common education at the age of 14 years, should indulge in manual labor in the fields or factories until they were 18 years old. He felt that by then "they had become mature enough to appreciate an education that would help them distinguish between real and false values." There were to be no examinations, certificates or diplomas, since his primary purpose was to develop the character and personality, stressing the dignity of work and the noble as well as useful mind. The student's improvement was to be made in his attitude toward life and responsibility.

After a long struggle, such a school was finally established and today, with the addition of a few vocational courses, there are fifty-eight Folk high schools. "The Danes came to see what Grundtvig preached: that the road to national content runs parallel with the spiritual and economic enlightenment of the people."

THE DANES are aristocratic and yet democratic. They are loathe to part with their great, stone castles, once inhabited by the vastly wealthy land-owners and now owned by descendants whose standard of living we would consider only a little above average. And yet the successful butter, egg and bacon cooperatives represent the ability of the Danes to work together for the good of all rather than the good of just one.

There is so much more that I would like to tell you about this book, Peg, but that would run into pages—so I'll just hope that you too will be able to read it and enjoy a "trip to Denmark" as much as I did.

With love,
Patty

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

(To Grandma Friebely)

Grandma's smile is sweet and kind, her words are soft, and wise,
I like to watch the twinkle in her gentle, kind blue eyes;
I like to hear her chuckle, and her words of sly comment;
To marvel at her intr'st in each trifling event.

Life was no bed of roses for her gentle, trusting soul.
The rearing of four daughters was at first its major goal.
Her life was filled with sacrifice, but filled with joy, too,
And she never started anything she didn't see clear through.

She loved her husband dearly through both hardship and good days,
Had faith that God would help her, and was always quick to praise,
And thank him when he answered anything she asked in prayer,
No matter what the trouble, she was sure that He was there!

And when God, in His wisdom, took her partner from her side,
She thanked Him for the privilege of having been his bride.
For fifty years of love, and work, and tears, and hope, and prayer,
And for the faithful knowledge that they'd meet again up there.

Oh, that my life may be as full of living as her own!
At eighty-three alive and well, her daughters now all grown,
She's working for their children, and will always have the love
Of everyone who knows her 'til God calls her home above.

Answers Trustees

In their letter of August 1 in the Fence Post of Paddock Publictons the trustees of schools of Wheeling township set forth a list of determining factors in the decision of the trustees as regards the petition for detachment of a group of new residents from District 26. It would seem the arguments put forth by the people of Distritc 26 at the public hearing were not duly considered.

Let us take what should be their most important reason first: "That it was to the best interest of the majority of the students of the entire district to grant the petition." I presume, the children of the entire District 26 is meant.

The trustees of schools of Wheeling township and the treaurer of schools of Wheeling township seem to persist in assuming the majority of the students attending Feehanville school were from the area lying within the Mt. Prospect village limits. We had over 80 students in Feehanville school last year. Only 12 of these came from the Mt. Prospect section. This year we expect over 80 students and none of these will be from the Mt. Prospect section. We have a complete census for all of the district and at no time within the next six years would the Mt. Prospect area have had more than 1/5 of the total attendance in our school.

They also say "furthermore, it did not prevent school district 26 from proceeding with the planned school building."

According to the latest assessed valuation figures, we do not have enough valuation for our entire $170,000 bond issue. I should have thought Mr. Franzen, township school treasurer, would have had these figures.

Building costs are going up all the time. Can we still get the amount of building that we planned for this spring for $170,000—if we had $170,000?

We will need just as large a school without the Mt. Prospect area as we originally planned. These plans were started last fall. Since that time new homes are going up; several new families with children have moved in where there formerly were no children and the parochial school situation has become so critical that many of these children will be in the public school.

The trustees' final argument (in their letter) is that the Feehanville school could be immediately erected after this decision was made, provided no appeal was made. May I ask how? With what? Every cent of the $170,000 was carefully allocated to get just the bare essentials for a first class education. Our children are entitled to at least as good an education as the children in the surrounding neighborhood.

It would be fine for the area seeking detachment to be able to pay its way into Mt. Prospect. However, nothing is gained by robbing Peter to pay Paul.

District 26 certainly has every justification to fight back when enough of their area is taken away so that they are prevented from building the size school they desperately need and from giving their children the education to which they are entitled. I trust as yet in these United States we do not have group distinction which favors one group to the exclusion of another.

The trustees of schools of Cook county will have a chance to rectify the injustice done to the children of district 26 when the detachment proceedings for those families living in the country, east of Rand rd., comes up for hearing August 19. These families did not and do not want to go into Mt. Prospect but it seems their interests have not even been considered.

Catholic Schools

To this interested layman, the heading "Catholic School Asks $100,000; To Benefit All," and the surprising story that followed in your issue of July 25, came as a great shock. This appeal to Protestants of the area for funds to double the facilities of a parochial school contains an open invitation to abdicate our responsibility to the public schools.

The community has a right to a serious and thorough discussion of this matter and its related resulting influences. The drawing off of a sum of money for the support of competing sectarian systems of education is, in the long run, to destroy our public system. By building up rival church schools at public expense, the undermining and eventual supplanting of the public school would be the end result.

It is difficult to reconcile a belief in the democratic process with these symptoms that smack of planned cleavage. Instead of unity and equality through the public schools, bitter conflict, as in other lands where public and church schools vie for public (i. e. tax) support, would certainly ensue. Our public school system, always a major bulwark of democracy, would inevitably be surrounded with a system of sectarian education, thus dividing our social and cultural life into dogmatically hostile camps. To sanction and support this malfunction of our educational standards would surely be an evil deed.

It is quite understandable, with 3,000,000 pupils in more than 8,000 tax-exempt Catholic schools valued, in elementary and secondary class alone, at nearly a billion dollars, that this huge system is becoming an unbearable load on the Roman Catholic people for its support. In addition are the sectarian colleges and the current plan to expend $10 billion in a decade for further expansion.

But other denominations in Itasca, Addison, Churchville, etc., also maintain substantial and imposing church schools, sans the public solicitation angle. Could it be that there is method in their method? They also are "supporting and raising local property values," but don't say much about it lest the tax assessor gets more and bigger ideas.

The entire matter is made convincingly plain in this quotation from a column by Mrs. Roosevelt: If we desire our children to go to schools of any particular kind, be it because we think they should have religious instruction or for any other reason, we are entirely free to set up those schools and to pay for them.

Quo Vadis

Whistling Dog Catchers

As a youngster one of my foremost ambitions was to become a top-notch dog-catcher. This aspiration was of such intent, that it excelled all other vocational desires, of which almost of equal importance, was my ambition to become America's chief Indian scout.

As the years progressed, I attempted with every conceivable means to procure at least the basic qualifications of one of these occupancies, but, alas, to no avail; and, today it is with a heavy heart that I admit my futility.

My first indication of my disqualifications, and disappointment, came with the crumbling of my Indian scout ambition. With sorrow, I learned that Indians no longer roamed the continent as fierce and warlike people, but, on the contrary, had either become modernistic, up-to-date Americans, or lived peacefully on reservations. Needless to say, there is no adventure in scouting for Indians when you already know where they are! Eradicated were my hopes of becoming an Indian scout.

Amidst this previous disappointment, and as difficult as it was to absorb, the thought that I could still, perhaps, attain the status of my foremost ambition, that of a recognized dog-catcher, carried me on with hope and renewed spirit. Now, this too, has been denied me. If I am to pattern my qualifications with the present Arlington Heights village dog-catchers, then, as disheartened and hesitant as I am to admit it, I could never become a proficient dog-catcher.

In time, I possibly could match the courage our "noted" village dog-catchers have shown when doing battle with an Irish Setter, or a well built Boxer. It is conceivable that I could acquire the adept footwork, and cunning, displayed by our carnivorous mammal baggers: It would not be too improbable to say that, eventually, I could maser, to a satisfying degree, the manipulations of the many intricate and involved devices used by our "generals" in this questionable strife between man and devoted animals.

But, I could never stop loving dogs, and I could never invade a man's private yard with the contemptible purpose of stealing his dog! For the commission alloted by the village for every dog ensnared (or should I be more explicit and say kidnapped), I could never employ squeamish methods used by these village dog-catchers, such as whistling, or calling to a dog so that it may stroll from its yard to be impounded by so-called village protectors!

If the Arlington Heights village dog-catchers are truly representative of the people's wishes, then, there can be no doubt in that I would make a very defective dog-catcher.

Baptisms

Why can't we join a church and be baptized any day. This is too important to be relegated to one day a week. Joining a church is a personal matter between the person and God. It does not have to be made into a public show. Many people are self-conscious about doing things in public and for this reason do not join.

Our ministers are indifferent about these people.

Maine High Adopts $895,360 Budget

Maine township high school has passed the 1952-1953 tentative budget amounting to $895,360. Public hearing on the proposed budget is set for 8 p. m. August 27, in the high school office.

The proposed educational budget is $678,860.00. This is 10.5 per cent higher than the budget adopted last year. Increases are the results of adding teachers and increasing salaries approximately 7½%. Equipping the new classrooms was also a major factor.

State Funds Increase

State Treasurer William G. Stratton reported receipts from three major sources of State revenue increased during June.

Sales tax receipts totaled $16,370,996.11 for the month, an increase of $1,159,831.31 over May receipts and $837,494.14 more than for June, 1951.

Motor fuel taxes also rose to $9,419,634.29 from $8,749,875.38 in May, and $7,308,185.79 a year ago.

Cigaret taxes brought in $2,675,743.28 in June, for a slight increase over the $2,258,251.09 collected in May and the $2,503,149.99 collected last June.

Motor vehicle license fees, however, fell off by $410,476.91 for the month, to $1,060,033.97. That was also a decreased of $191,760.33 from last year's June collections.

Receipts for the first six months of this year totaled $197,583,964.74 from these four sources.

Director Tells of Policy With Regard to Ponds

The subject of making engineering plans for ponds and supervising pond construction was discussed by the North Cook soil conservation service district directors at length recently. Director Brockman offered the following statement of policy as part of the district program.

Assistance in preparing plans for ponds will be restricted to sites on land owned by district cooperators which permit reduction of gradient in natural drainage channels to a non-erosive grade, to sites located on cooperators lands which provide livestock water supply as a requirement for proper land use, and to sites which will temporarily impound sufficient runoff water to retard flood water concentration.

Banks Provide Needed Capital For Farmers

Adequate capital is of increasing importance in maintaining high production of vitally needed farm products, according to Carl Hammerl, executive vice president of Mt. Prospect State Bank, who represents the Illinois bankers association as North Cook county chairman, federation committee on agriculture.

"Operating a successful farm today requires a much larger investment than it did a few years ago," he said. "The average Illinois farm is larger than it was ten years ago. In the face of the shortage of farm labor, this means more of the work must be done by machinery.

"HIGH LEVELS of production are necessary not only to provide the basic commodities the world needs, but also to justify the large investment in modern agriculture. In recent months, farmers have been faced with rising costs of the things they buy and lower prices of the things they sell. Production is the key to keeping agriculture profitable.

"To fill their need for capital, farmers have turned mostly to the banks throughout the state," Mr. Hammerl said. Quoting from the eleventh annual national survey of agricultural lending by the agricultural commission of the American bankers association, he noted that "the vast majority of farm loans made by banks are for production and operating requirements. In 1951, the last full year of operation, Illinois banks serving agricultural communities loaned $388,665,000 to 116,797 farmers for all types of financial needs. Of this amount, $373,747,000 was borrowed by 114,597 farmers to finance production and operating needs. This compares with 97,646 production loans, totaling $224,019,000, during 1950. These production loans were quickly repaid, too, and only $207,553,000 were outstanding at the end of 1951.

"THIS YEAR 1951 was marked by a very small increase in the total of bank-held farm mortgage debt, indicating that this type of borrowing is being kept to a minimum. At the beginning of the year, the total agricultural mortgage debt held by Illinois banks was $35,665,000. During the year, banks made 2,200 additional farm real estate loans in an aggregate of $14,918,000. Yet, so much of the mortgage debt was paid off during the year that, on December 31, 1951, the total amount of this long term debt outstanding had risen only $4,052,000 to a total of $39,717,000.

"The fact that the state's banks are serving particularly the operators of small and moderate-sized farms is shown by the size of the average loan made by banks during the year. The average production loan was $3,261 during 1951, and the average farm real estate loan was $6,781.

"The total bank-held agricultural debt outstanding in Illinois January 1 of this year was $247,270,000, excluding C.C.C loans," Mr. Hammerl said.

For Better Health

Cutting down one's excess weight, the insurance people said, can pay real dividends in better health and longer life. One study covering the period from 1925 to 1950 traced the records of 50,000 men and women and discovered that those who started out with excess poundage and were able to reduce their weight had longer lives than those who kept on being overweight.

Farm Labor Situation Serious

"The farm labor situation throughout the country is becoming more acute and serious," according to C. R. Schoby, President of the American Dairy Association.

Mr. Schoby, an Iowa dairy farmer, says growing shortages of dairy farm workers and the heavy investment a dairy farm demands today leads him to wonder if the question "how much does a quart of milk cost" may turn into "where can we get a quart of milk?"

"Census figures show," Mr. Schoby declared, "that there were about 1,320,000 fewer people working on U. S. farms in 1950 than in 1940.

"The decline of farm workers was caused largely by the decrease in the number of farm operators and family workers who are members of the operator's family, resulting from the decrease in the number of farms. There were approximately 500,000 fewer hired workers on farms in 1950 than in 1940. Expenditures for hired labor were 271 per cent greater than in 1939.

"The number of farms in the United States in 1950 was 495,000 less than in 1945 and 713,000 less than in 1940. The average size of farms increased from 174.0 acres in 1940 to 194.8 acres in 1945 and 210.5 acres in 1950. The percentage of farms operated by tenants declined from 38.7 in 1940 to 31.7 in 1945 and to 26.7 in 1950.

"Displacement of about 3,500,000 American farm workers by 1970 as a result of labor-saving devices 'revolutionary in impact' is forecast in a recent study made public by a Senate committee."

Mr. Schoby said that dairy farmers are using all possible mechanical devices to help them carry on their 365 day a year job of milk production.

"Mass production of milk on the dairy farm is not sufficient to take up the loss of labor," he added, "and overcome gradual disappearance of the family type farm. During the five years from 1945 to 1950 there was a decline of 124,000 in farms of from 100 to 219 acres."

Crushed Hay Cures Faster In the Field

You can cure your hay crop faster in the field by running it through one of the new crushing machines.

Farm adviser Carl F. Mees says that by curing your hay faster in the field you can avoid some of the weather hazards that reduce its quality or completely ruin it.

Hay crushers are relatively new, Mees says. They crack the stems of the plants lengthwise, making them equal to several smaller stems. Crushing opens up the inner parts of the stem to air and makes them dry out faster. After crushing, stems dry almost as fast as the leaves.

TESTS ON CRUSHING hay at the Illinois agricultural experiment station in Urbana show that crushing reduces drying time by about half for alfalfa and clover and about a third for soybean hay. If you can dry your hay enough to put it up the day after you cut it, you will have a much better chance of getting it in before it rains than if you have to try to pick two successive dry days along about first-cutting time.

Even if crushed hay catches a rain while it's on the ground, it will dry faster than uncrushed hay. Crushing also improves palatability of hay and reduces the labor of haying if you don't have to turn windrows to dry out the crop.

Ask your county farm adviser for circular 693, "Hay Crushing for Faster Field Curing," or write directly to the college of agriculture, Urbana, if you want more information about field crushing.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Long-Wearing Cutting Board

A SPLINTER-FREE cutting board that won't be affected by acids or moisture and which will wear for a long time may be cut any size from a piece of Masonite quarter-inch tempered hardboard.

This hard, dense, smooth board won't dull knives. It is indispensable for any kitchen, as it is useful in many food-preparing tasks.

Illustrated is one that is 12 inches wide and 18 inches long. Inscribe arcs, as shown, and cut the shape with a scroll, coping or keyhole saw. Bevel the edges lightly with a sandblock, plane or file.

For rolling dough, a rectangular piece of hardboard large enough to cover the working surface should be used.

Keep the cutting board clean by wiping with a damp cloth.

Constant Demand For Beef Keeps Price Level

Continued strong demand for beef will tend to hold meat prices steady at the retail level, says H. M. Conway, director of research for the National Live Stock Producer, the nation's leading live stock publication.

"Although production of beef is on the increase several factors tend to offset these increases which could possibly result in lower retail prices. These include the liquidation of some hog supplies, lack of the sheep industry to furnish greater proportion of meat to total supply and the increased standard of living in many wage earning families which has strengthened the demand for beef.

"REGARDLESS of these demand trends," continues Mr. Conway, it seems well to recognize that the future of the beef cattle business is becoming considerably more speculative. Part of this is due to the increased production and transportation costs that continue to push the buying power of the live stock dollar downward.

"This change in buying power comes about as the prices of manufactured goods and services catch up with the level of raw material prices, including live stock, resulting from the early stages of inflation or emergency periods.

"As breeding herds and supplies of cattle are built up during the periods of favorable position in regards to the purchasing power of the live stock dollar, these same supplies of cattle are marketed rather rapidly when a break in the market comes, regardless of its cause.

Birds Weave Fibers

The weaver birds among the best known of South Africa—are true to their name. They weave nests from blades of grass and other vegetable fibers, using a fixed and often elaborate design.

Protect Livestock Against Disease At Fair Time

Be careful that "wins" by your livestock at the fair this year are not followed by diseases losses on the farm.

Dr. G. T. Woods, University of Illinois college of veterinary medicine, says even blue ribbon winners are subject to disease, so take every precaution to protect them if you enter them in the fair.

After the fair, isolate the show stock from the home animals for at least 30 days. If the show animals are healthy at the end of this period, they can be put back into the herd.

Have your veterinarian examine the animal in plenty of time before the fair, Dr. Woods suggests. If they are healthy, he will give them the health certificate which is required for entry. But don't wait until the last day to call the veterinarian, or he might be busy on the other side of the county.

Cook county 4-H Fair is slated for August 15-17 at Arlington race track.

Sawdust, Chips And Shavings Good for Soil

Applying wood residues to farm fields and gardens won't eliminate the need for fertilizers, but they're good for the soil, according to a forest products specialist at the Illinois college of agriculture.

W L Meek reports that use of sawdust, shavings or chips for mulch, bedding and soil building is growing. And they are usually comparatively cheap materials for such use.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture says most wood chips, shavings or sawdust do not contain harmful products and do not "sour" the soil.

THE MAIN organic compounds in wood, cellulose and lignin, add needed soil humus when they decay. But wood adds very little plant food and should not be considered a fertilizer, Meek adds.

Actually use of wood as a soil-building material causes a temporary nitrogen shortage, and nitrogen should be added with the wood products. The USDA recommends about half a pound of ammonium nitrate or three-fourths pound of ammonium sulphate for each bushel of wood residue.

With added nitrogen, wood residues make good mulch materials for orchards and gardens. Wood used for bedding becomes an excellent soil builder because of the manure it contains.

The USDA, Washington 25, D. C., has two publications available on this subject, Circular 891, "Use of Sawdust for Mulches," and leaflet 323, "Wood Chips for the Land."

In the Future

A new screen enamel which won't clog wire mesh and offers weather and rust protection . . . Fireproof wall paneling, with a layer of aluminum between two layers of plastic . . . A "spot-welding" device for securing plywood paneling employs high frequencing radio energy to set the glue. According to the maker the "spot-welder," when used with quarter-inch plywood, gives results comparable to what previously was possible only with three-quarter-inch plywood . . . Fire-resistant bulk filler for use in sleeping bags, mattresses and upholstering . . . Snag-proof zippers which release threads and cloth by simply pressing the tab.

How Good Are Oats in the Hog Ration?

If a corn shortage is creating a hog fattening problem on your farm you can use oats in the ration to replace part or all of the corn.

G. R. Carlisle, livestock specialist in the Illinois college of agriculture, says you can maintain normal rate of gain by feeding a ration containing two-thirds corn and one-third oats plus supplement. In this ration 100 pounds of oats has the same feed value as 80 pounds of corn.

AS THE AMOUNT of ground oats in the ration is increased, the rate of gain of growing-fattening pigs goes down. Rate of gain will fall about one-fourth if you change the ration to one-fourth corn and three-fourths oats plus supplement.

Increasing the amount of oats will also lower the per pound value of the oats.

Carlisle advises using finely ground oats for best results. Tests have shown that on the average whole oats are worth only 75 per cent as much as ground oats for young pigs.

Oats are an excellent feed for brood sows. And oats plus minerals fed free choice on alfalfa or Ladino clover pasture are a good ration for bred sows during the summer months.

Water for Dairying

Water is an important factor in the operation of modern dairy plants. Each cow requires a minimum of 25 gallons daily, and many more gallons are needed in the dairy barn.

Farm TV Show to Continue 26 Weeks

The half-hour farm television show, "Farm Town, U.S.A." which has been presented since May by the Illinois agricultural association, has been extended for 26 weeks, Don Peasley, IAA radio relations, announced.

"Farm Town, U.S.A." will continue at 7 p. m. each Saturday, channel 4, presented by the Illinois agricultural association, and the Pure Milk association, which has become a co-sponsor. "The interest among city viewers in learning more about farming and life on the farm has convinced the two cooperating organizations that there is a desire for an educational program about farming," Peasley said.

George Menard, veteran Chicago radio and television announcer, will continue to serve as master of ceremonies on the show.

Dairying will return to "Farm Town, U.S.A." August 9 when three different breeds of cows will visit the WBKB studio. A Holstein, Guernsey, and Jersey heifer will be shown with their owners discussing why they prefer their particular breed.

H. V. McNamara, president, announced that the net profit of National Tea for the first 24 weeks of 1952 amounted to $1,735,057 after making provision for Federal income and excess profits taxes amounting to $2,040,000. This result compares with a profit of $1,866,717 after making provision for Federal income tax of $1,940,000 for the corresponding period in 1951.

After deducting preferred dividends, the above results are equivalent to $.96 per share in 1952 and $1.18 per share in 1951, on shares of outstanding common stock.

Predict Third Biggest Wheat Crop

RACINE, WIS.—The third largest wheat crop in history is indicated in a report released by the department of agriculture in Washington. It also says prospects are good for a record harvest of food and fiber crops as a whole.

A major factor in this year's almost record harvest will be clipper combines, like the one shown above, in six or seven-foot machines power-take-off or bagger. These machines will harvest over 110 different crops and are manufactured by the Massey-Harris company at their Batavia, N. Y., plant.

Winter wheat was forecast at 986 million bushels, which would be about 40 million more than was indicated a month ago, nearly 40 per cent more than was harvested last year. The combined winter and spring wheat crops would be about a billion 293 million bushels if the spring crop turns out above average. The government goal is one billion 165 million bushels. Only in 1947 and 1948 were wheat crops larger than the one indicated for this year.

Words Often Misused

The much-used expression "show up" in the sense of appear, arrive, or come, is not good usage and should be avoided. It is also an undesirable colloquialism for "expose." Say, "Did he arrive (not, show up) at the party?" And, "We intend to expose his false pretensions (not, show him up)."

Do not say, "That tree is 20 foot high." It is better to say, "20 feet."

Do not say, "He divided up his work." Omit up.

The use of "shape," in the sense of state or condition, is an unapproved colloquialism. Do not say, "He was in bad shape." Instead, say, "He was in a serious condition."

Do not use "spell" in the sense of "a period of time;" as, "I shall be here for a spell." Instead, say, "I shall be here for awhile."

Words Often Mispronounced

Repetitive. Accent second syllable, not the first.

Incomparable. Accent second syllable, not the third.

Scotchman and Scotsman. The first term is obsolescent. Scottish people much prefer the form "Scotsman."

Convoy (noun and verb). Accent noun on first syllable, verb on second syllable.

Solon (a lawmaker). Pronounce first o as in so, second o as in on, accent first syllable.

Somnolence. Accent first syllable, not the second.

Words Often Misspelled

Roue (a debauchee); observe the vowels. Septuagenarian (a person in his seventies); observe the u. Schizophrenia (in psychiatry, a mental disorder). Bail (security; also a hoop); bale (a large bundle). Smorgasbord (a type of feast). Philippines (the islands) and Filipinos (the natives of those islands).

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Indubitably; unquestionably; in a manner to remove all doubt. "He is undubitably the man for this position."

Discomfiture;; frustration; overthrow. "His dream was destined to end in discomfiture and disgrace."

Indigenous; produced, growing, or living naturally in a country or climate; native. (Pronounce in-dij-e-nus, accent second syllable). "Palm trees are indigenous to that country."

Deplorable; causing grief, sad; wretched. "Life's evils are deplorable."

Trite; overly common; hackneyed; banal. "Lacking in originality, most of his ideas were trite."

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. Should a married woman, whether her husband is living or deceased, always be addressed socially as Mrs. James J. Johnson?

A. Socially, Mrs. Mary Johnson is in extremely bad taste for both a wife and a widow. In business or a profession, "Mrs. Mary" is usually unavoidable, but she should never be so addressed in social life.

Q. Is it proper to take chicken or chops up in the fingers when eating?

A. Chicken and chops are not finger foods, except at a picnic. Anyone who has learned to eat properly can, with a little practice, cut all the meat from the bones without waste.

Q. How should a divorcee sign her name if she retains her ex-husband's surname?

A. She should use the surname of her former husband, prefixing her maiden name; as, "Mrs. Helen Carter Johnson."

Q. Is there any polite way I can tell certain guests not to put their feet on my good furniture? So many of them persist in sitting with their feet tucked under them, and their shoes on my chairs.

A. About the most tactful thing I can suggest is that you provide yourself with a couple of footstools. With more of a helpful manner than a critical one, you can then say, "Oh, I'm so sorry you had no footstool!"

Q. What would be a suitable breakfast menu following a small, simple wedding?

A. Fruit (chilled melon, grapefruit, orange or tomato juice), eggs with bacon or sausage, muffins, hot buttered toast, marmalade and jam, and coffee.

Q. If one is but slightly acquainted with a bride or bridegroom and an invitation to the wedding is received, is it necessary to send a gift?

A. No; under these circumstances, it is entirely optional.

Q. When you are going to have a very large number of guests at a bridal shower, is it all right to stipulate "linen" to some of them, "kitchen" to others, and perhaps "lingerie" to others?

A. No; it is best just to call it a "bridal shower," and allow the guests to choose what they please.

Q. When does the bride's mother take her seat at the church?

A. She is the last guest to be admitted to the church, for when she reaches the front left pew it is the signal that the bride will be there momentarily.

Q. Is it permissible to sip water while one has food in one's mouth?

A. This is considered very bad manners.

Q. What gifts are appropriate for the fifteenth wedding anniversary?

A. This is traditionally the crystal anniversary.

New Legion Head

Perce F. Brautigam was elected American Legion state commander at the department convention held at the civic opera house in Chicago, Saturday, August 2.

The Commander served in the U. S. navy, during World War 1, as an enlisted man. He is a past commander of Naval post No. 372; past commander of the first district; and a past commander of Cook county council.

'Big Nineteen' to Launch Long Range Program Against Organized Crime

The Big Nineteen, or what is now known as the Citizens of Greater Chicago, Inc., will hold a meeting sometime next week to launch its long-range program of ridding Chicago and Cook county of organized crime.

Colin Gordon, chairman of the citizens league, has announced that $105,000 has been raised to fight crime—$91,623 of that in the fund drive just completed, the remainder having been sent in by outraged citizens before the drive was opened.

At next week's meeting, the members will take up the appointment of an executive director for a term of five years. Fred Kramer, chairman of personnel committee, said that several well known persons, in and out of the city, had been interviewed, with even Gen. Douglas MacArthur being considered.

Gordon said the long-range program will be aimed at breaking "the 60 year old gang rule" in the city and county and knocking out the alliance between the criminal element in city government by modernizing local political machinery.

Among proposals under consideration are the reapportionment and redistributing the city's 50 wards, the possibility of a 25-man council with some members elected at large, and the election of precinct captains. Also under consideration is the police commissioner's office and the question of whether it is wise to have a politically appointed commissioner. Gordon would like to see the commissioner's office moved from city hall, the city's political hotbed, to the detective bureau, where most department work is done.

Gordon had nothing to say about the recent resignation of Charles Bane as chief counsel of the council's emergency crime committee.

The crime committee, after considerable wrangling by opposing factions in city hall, adjourned last week, finally agreeing on two points—the big one is getting a new counsel.

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George S. Mahin, Executive Secretary, Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

Illinois Congressmen Marguerite Stitt Church, Edward H. Jenison, William E. McVey and William L. Springer chalked up a perfect record on every roll call involving economy at the recent session of Congress.

Congressman Melvin Price had the dubious distinction of being recorded most consistently against economy, closely followed by Congressmen Thomas Gordon, Thomas J. O'Brien, Peter F. Mack, Jr., Sidney R. Yates, William L. Dawson, A. J. Sabath and John C. Kluczynski.

There were only ten such roll calls during the entire session that could be used as economy yardsticks because the members of Congress, fully aware that "by their votes you shall know them," have developed almost perfect procedures for passing legislation without record votes on controversial issues.

Six of the yardstick roll calls were on floor amendments, all adopted, to reduce appropriation bills. Another roll call forced a reduction in new public housing units from 25,000 to 5,000. Still another roll call involved one of the Jensen amendments to force a reduction in government employees by prohibiting the filling of more than one job vacancy in four until the total number of employees has been reduced at least 10%. Another significant roll call was on the Smith-Coudert amendment to limit defense spending for fiscal 1953 to 46 billion dollars. The last roll call was on the McClellan-Colmer bill to help restore Congressional purse string control by creating a Joint Congressional Committee on the budget, adequately staffed.

The McClennan-Colmer bill died by a vote of 155-173, a margin of only 18 votes, despite opposition by House leaders of both parties. Representatives Busbey, Chiperfield, Church, Jenison, McVey, Springer, Velde, Vursell and Yates voted with the conference of state taxpayers associations on this bill.
